Congress Cool to Coolidge Plea for Navy Cut

PRESIDENT ASKS POWERS TO JOIN IN NEW SEA PACT

Seeks 5-5-3 Ratio Limit on Cruisers.

World's Views Differ

The President's appeal for a new conference on naval limitation was received with widely varying views in Washington and abroad.

While some senators spoke in approval of the project, the prevailing impression was that the plan was doomed to failure because England and Japan exceed the U. S. in auxiliary boat strength.

The London and Paris foreign offices expressed themselves in favor of the plan "in principle." Premier Mussolini said he would give the matter "careful attention."

League of nations spokesmen expressed doubt that the European powers would sanction such an agreement.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—In an invitation that is widely construed as a challenge, President Coolidge today proposed to the other naval powers that they join the United States in extending the limitation of naval armaments to all classes of ships not covered by the Washington conference treaty.

Through our ambassadors at CALVIN COOLIDGE, the capitals of the world are invited to join the President in his quest for a new world peace.

President Coolidge inquired whether Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan would empower their delegates to the forthcoming meeting of the league of nations preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva to negotiate a further naval limitation agreement with the American delegates.

The Washington conference of 1921 limited the number and tonnage of battleships and aircraft carriers in the fleets of 14 nations, including the United States, Great Britain, and Japan, respectively, and 141 each for France and Italy. The only other limitation imposed was on the size of cruisers, restricted to 10,000 tons each, and on cruiser gun caliber, restricted to 8 inches.

Proposes 5-5-3 Ratio.

Mr. Coolidge now proposes that the United States, Great Britain and Japan limit the number or aggregate tonnage of cruisers, destroyers, submarines and other auxiliaries not covered by the Washington treaty each nation shall be permitted, the relative strength in these classes to be 5-5-3, as in the case of capital ships. He leaves the way open for an agreement in the negotiations raising the 141 ratio of France and Italy so far as cruisers and other auxiliary craft are concerned.

By suggesting a revision of the 1921 treaty for France and Italy in the auxiliary classes the President seeks to remove objections those nations have raised to a further naval limitation pending the outcome of the effort of the league of nations to bring about a general reduction of land and air armaments.

Britain and France balked.

It was the refusal of France to agree to a limitation of submarines and the consequent refusal of Britain to accept a restriction of the number of cruisers and destroyers that caused the failure of the Washington conference to extend the ratio to the auxiliary classes.

The United States has been soundly rebuffed in this proposition for some time, with results that have encouraged the President to make his contemplated move for further naval limitation. That he had taken this step the President announced in his message to congress this afternoon.

As his reasons therefor the President desires to head off what he perceives as an impending revival of naval competition.

PUSHING HIM IN

Society Girl Is 3d Bride of Robert Ames

Robert Ames, leading man in "The Ragged Edge," now playing at the Princess theater, acquired his third wife yesterday when he eloped to Waukegan with Miss Muriel Oakes, New York society girl, daughter of Mrs. E. W. Packard, formerly Mrs. Malcolm Oakes.

The couple were married at 8 a. m. by Justice Harry E. Hart at Waukegan. They tried to keep the marriage a secret, but when it became known they returned to Chicago, registering at the Ambassador hotel.

Mr. Ames went to the theater last night after hearing rumors that Helen Lambert, cabaret proprietor of New York, had been quoted as saying she came to Chicago Wednesday expecting to be married to Ames yesterday.

Ames in his dressing room at the theater exclaimed:

Miss Lambert Only Friend.

"Why, why, I'm dumfounded! Surely it can't be true. Miss Lambert is an old friend of mine. She merely came to Chicago on a visit."

Asked if he had not been engaged to Miss Lambert at one time, Ames replied some newspapers in New York had hinted that, but were mistaken.

"Please don't say anything about this," Ames begged. "Just then the first act came and Ames rushed out of his dressing room, his makeup incomplete.

In the meantime Miss Lambert was reported to be surprised by the news of Ames' marriage.

Engaged Six Months.

Ames declared he had been practically engaged to Miss Oakes for six months. He met her when she entered amateur dramatics in New York, and she later was stage director for the Brady-Wyman Theatrical company.

Miss Oakes came to Chicago Wednesday night. Ames, with his company, had arrived the day before.

In obtaining their marriage license Mr. Ames gave his age as 37 and Miss Oakes gave hers as 29.

Ames recently was divorced from Vivienne Segal, star of the musical play, "Adrienne," and later with "Casualties in the Air" during its Chicago showing. She charged he failed to support her during their year of married life. Miss Segal also told the court she had sent $100 a month to Mr. Ames' first wife, Frances Goodrich.

Chief U. S. Civil Service Examiner Dies Aboard Ship

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The death of Herbert Augustus Flier, chief examiner of the United States civil service commission and a delegate to the Pan-American conference at Honolulu, late today aboard the U. S. army transport Cambrai was told in a radio message to the Associated Press.

BOMB WRECKS OAK PARK AUTO DEALER'S HOME

The front porch and a part of the interior of the home of Emil Denemark, wealthy automobile dealer, 600 Clinton avenue, Oak Park, were seriously damaged last night by the explosion of a black powder bomb.

Denemark and his wife were absent at the time, but a nurse and Denemark's twin sons, Eugene and Emil, 6 months old, were in the house. They were not injured. The nurse, Mary Impari, said that she had not seen any one around the house during the night.

The Denemark automobile agency is at 3840 Ogden avenue. Denemark is owner of the WEDC radio broadcasting station. He has been the objective of several forays by members of the underworld. In July, 1923, a gang of robbers entered his home, then at 2449 South Crawford avenue, and took jewelry valued at $7,000 from Mrs. Denemark after robbing her husband and two friends of money. In July, 1926, three more robbers went into the Ogden avenue salerooms and took $6,800 and jewelry valued at $10,000 from him. Little more than a week ago his colored chauffeur was shot and killed while resisting robbery.

Find $20,728 Shortage at Bank; Cashier Kills Self

Redwood City, Cal., Feb. 10.—(U. N. I.)—A shortage of $20,728 was discovered in the accounts of the First National bank of Redwood City today, and almost at the same time the body of Frank K. Towne, cashier and vice president of the institution, was found in the hills near here. Towne had killed himself by firing a shot through his mouth. He was married and had three children.

Jury Holds Fate of Man Who Starved Wife to Death

Waycross, Ga., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The fate of Oscar Hodges, charged with the murder of his wife by starving her to death, rested with a Ware county circuit court jury tonight. Hodges was indicted for murder after local charity workers had reported the absence of food and medicines in the home during Mrs. Hodges' illness, from which she died Jan. 6.

Half of N. U. Co-eds Smoke, Says Daily Northwestern

The old controversy as to whether co-eds should have special smoking rooms at Northwestern university was raised again yesterday in an editorial in the Daily Northwestern, student newspaper. The writer made the assertion that half the women students smoke cigarettes and should have official sanction.

Find Woman's Headless Body on River Bank

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—The body of a woman, with the head and arms missing, was found on the bank of the St. Joseph river, three miles south of South Bend and near the grounds of the St. Mary's school for girls.

Indications were that the body had been in the water for five months, according to coroner Carl Reisel. He believes, from the physical evidence, that the woman was murdered, the body dismembered by some one with a fair working knowledge of surgery and then packed in a box or barrel before it was placed in the river.

Body Almost Nude.

One foot was covered with a stocking and a remnant of a single slip of garment was clinging to the torso, which is believed to do away with any theory that medical students may have been responsible for its presence in the stream. Moreover, the coroner pointed out, there are no medical schools near South Bend nor any of the upstream towns, which include Mishawaka and Elkhart.

The body had been severed at a point a few inches below the armpits. Portions of the internal organs had been removed. The legs were drawn up tightly and marks were found on the ankles which led to a theory that the feet had been bound.

Coroner Reisel, reconstructing the appearance of the woman from the evidence at hand, said that she was probably about 30 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, and weighed about 154 pounds.

Coroner Calls It Murder.

"My theory is that she was murdered," he asserted. "Then the killer cut the body in two pieces in order to fit it into a box, a barrel, or a trunk. Thrown into the water, the container disintegrated or was smashed as it was hurled against the dams in the river. The rest of the body may have floated to some other spot and I have asked a search be made at Indiana-Michigan power dam at Niles, Mich., which is farther downstream."

"The dismemberment was cleanly done. It appears, also, that quicklime was poured on the body at one time. We shall make a closer examination tomorrow."

The coroner has little hope that any identification can be made unless the head can be found.

Not Connected with School.

Earl Rupp, a South Bend fireman, discovered the body and notified the police. The latter are sure the woman was not connected in any way with the St. Mary school. No girls have been reported missing there.

One theory was that the body might be that of Geraldine Way, 17 years old, of 7817 Ridgeland avenue, Chicago. Her parents reported that she disappeared from the northwest at 7:30 p. m. on Aug. 4.

POLICEMAN IS SLAIN WHEN HE DEFIES ROBBER

Held Up by Pair as He Leaves Wake.

Off duty and on his way home after attending a wake, Policeman Joseph A. Bender of the detective bureau was shot and killed last night by an unidentified robber near 57th and Paulina streets.

Bender had been at 5811 South Wood street, where double funeral services are to be held this morning for Mrs. Mary Kelly Mooney and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Mooney Koppelman. He was in civilian clothing, but carried his service pistol.

Saw Suspects in Auto.

Others who attended the wake said they had noticed an automobile, in which two men were sitting, parked in front of the Koppelman home. It was seen to move off shortly after the policeman started for his home at 1642 West 57th street. He was almost in front of the house when the car drew up beside him.

There were no witnesses close enough to see exactly what happened, but in the opinion of the investigating police Bender was told to hold up his hands and was fired on when he reached for his own weapon. He was struck above the heart and died a short time after being taken to the German Deaconess hospital.

"They tried to stick me up and I wouldn't have it," he gasped as he was being taken to the hospital.

Capt. John Egan believes that the killer was one of the band that shot and seriously wounded Elmore Bell in front of his home at 650 South Honors street several days ago.

Auto Distances Pursuers.

Several other policemen who had been at the wake and were on their way home heard the shot that struck Bender and pursued the car. They were on foot, however, and could not get within shooting distance.

Bender was 36 years old. His wife was attending a masquerade party at the time he was killed. Their son, Joseph Jr., 8 years old, is recovering from scarlet fever. Bender was recently assigned to guard an Atlantic & Pacific tea store from robbers.

DIAZ TROOPS RUN REBELS TOWARD HONDURAS LINE

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Gen. Viquez, commander of the Conservative troops at Chinandega, reports that cavalry is pursuing the Liberal rebels and has captured five machine guns. The Liberals are fleeing toward the Honduras frontier. Conditions at Chinandega are bad, there being much suffering from hunger and thirst.

Dr. Daniel Molloy of the Rockefeller foundation and doctors of the Red Cross are proceeding to Chinandega on a special train, fearing an outbreak of typhoid or other disease.

At least 400 wounded are being cared for, and many wounded are receiving no attention. Wounded are arriving constantly at Managua.

Twelve blocks of the city were burned and many stores, warehouses, and residences were looted. Women and children were killed by machine gun fire while trying to save their household treasures.

HUNGARY BUILDS WAR SUPPLIES; BALKANS SHIVER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

VIENNA, Feb. 10.—The announcement of Count Charles Czeaky, minister of national defense, that Hungary would resume the manufacture of war material for police and frontier guards is expected to alarm Czechoslovakia, Roumania and Jugoslavia, which contain indigestible territories, owing to Hungarian irredentism. Although denying that the ambassadors' council is accepting the Hungarian request and dropping the military control, Count Czeaky said definitely that a powder factory is being established at Purfio, the manufacture of cannons and mines has started at Dios-Gyor, machine guns and rifles are being manufactured at Budapest and the carabinieri would receive 5,235 rifles, 1,100 pistols and as many swords. Fifty-two thousand gas masks also are being issued, as well as twelve tanks.

Chicago Man Kills Self in a Coast Hospital

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Edward Chambers of Chicago, vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, plunged four stories to his death from a hospital window here early today after having been seized with what apparently was a fit of temporary insanity.

As the official in charge of all traffic operations of the railroad, Mr. Chambers has been a frequent visitor to the Pacific coast.

NATIVE OF WAUKEGAN.

Edward Chambers was born at Waukegan, Ill., on Feb. 16, 1859. He received his education in the public schools and entered the employ of the Santa Fe in 1878 as a freight handler in Pueblo, Col. He was successively a clerk and cashier at that place, agent for the road at San Diego and Los Angeles, then assistant general freight agent of the company's lines west of Albuquerque.

Placed in Charge of Traffic.

In 1905 he became assistant freight traffic manager for the coast lines of the road, with headquarters in San Francisco, later becoming vice president in charge of traffic, and moving to Chicago.

Mr. Chambers was made director of transportation of the United States food administration during the world war, and later was director of traffic of the United States railroad administration under both William G. McAdoo and Walter D. Hines, directors general.

In 1920 he resumed work with the railroad in the position he held at the time of his death. His office was in the Railway Exchange building.

His physician, Dr. J. H. West, and the nurse, Miss Flo Yates in San Francisco, were unable to give an explanation of his act other than to pronounce it a case of temporary dementia. In Chicago Mr. Chambers lived at the South Shore Country club. It was said there this morning that he had been in ill health for some time.

PARIS THRILLS AS VANDERBILT AND FRIEND 'STEP OUT'

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 10.—With his sister, Consuelo and her husband, Col. Jacques Balsan, William Kissam Vanderbilt II. and Mrs. Rosamond Lancaster Warburton tonight gave the Paris social world a thrill.

For a quiet little dinner—their first in public since they arrived in Europe on different ships—the much talked of couple, whose matrimonial intentions are obscured by the fact that Mr. Vanderbilt still is thoroughly married to Virginia Fair, chose Ciro's, where the social spotlight glares the brightest on the continent.

Mrs. Warburton, with a cloudy crooked head, was the essence of chic in a daintily cut, but otherwise simple black dinner dress. She wore no jewels, except a small ruby ring and a watch bracelet. Mrs. Balsan was the regal member of the party, with her height, silver hair and famous pearls.

Mr. Vanderbilt danced around the floor with his sister and later with Mrs. Warburton, doing a dignified fox trot and never once forfeiting his dignity for the Charleston or Black Bottom. But the coldest, being more venturesome, did an astonishingly good Charleston with Mrs. Warburton, while Mr. Vanderbilt and his sister looked on, much amused.

to whom he failed to say a last word of goodby when they left for France as well as to the American heroes far whom he had no word of welcome when they came back.

The Illinois members of the American Legion who unanimously adopted the resolution that read, "We emphatically condemn the war record of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago," could qualify above all others as judges of just who was for "America First" in 1917 and 1918.

Aerial Propaganda Recalled.

There were those of us who had faced the fire of enemy artillery in the Champagne and the Argonne while from above airplanes dropped down upon our lines little leaflets going in English the anti-American utterances of the man who was then mayor of the second city in America.

"As Peter S. Lambros, a patriotic Chicagoan and editor of the Greek Star, said in March, 1918, and reiterated last Sunday night at a great Greek-American banquet for Mr. Litsinger: 'The world knows that Thompson did not play his part as an American citizen and public official during the war. Thompson not only failed to do his part but he misrepresented the patriotism of the so-called foreigners of Chicago.'

Slap at "America First" Slogan.

"The traditional loyalty of citizens to 'America first' is a sacred thing and no demagogue has the right to claim it for his private property," Col. Judah continued.

"The nation in 1917 was at war. It was receiving the official representatives of the governments with which we were allied. Yet the mayor of Chicago said he did not know whether he should invite any of these representatives to the city. He thought some of our citizens might not like it. The Americans was an insult to their intelligence and loyalty, clearly demonstrated during the war, and will not bring in the expected political dividends. Thompson may consider whether in time of war the position he took was not nearer the giving of 'aid and comfort to the enemy' than he or any other Chicago citizen could afford to be guilty of," Col. Judah concluded.

Charges Committee Threatened.

Col. Judah charged State's Attorney Crowe with "trying to terrorize committee men" after David H. Chesrow, the Deneen-Brundage leader of the 27th ward, reported to headquarters that he had been taken to the state's attorney's office yesterday by two policemen.

"Mr. Crowe," the D.B. statement read, "threatened our committee men in vile and abusive terms, the latter's sworn statement to us indicates Mr. Chesrow was finally told to 'get out of here and don't be seen around the 27th ward any more' with accompanying epithets."

"If this is a sample of the sort of tactics the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin gang in wards like the 27th, 28th and others on the west side try to employ against their opponents, it is time the citizens are informed that their public prosecutor and one of his highest paid assistants are not only devoting the major portion of their time to playing politics, but are abusing the powers of their office in an effort to terrorize and intimidate decent Republicans."

Crowe Answers Judah.

State's Attorney Crowe, in reply, said: "We simply called the committee men's attention to the fact that there is a criminal code. The Deneen-Brundage organization was putting in judges and clerks of election who do not live in the ward."

Mr. Thompson, after reiterating his remarks that Prof. Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago was to blame for the big fees paid the so-called experts, which was hotly denied by Prof. Merriam, who says Bill is all mixed up in his recollections and is seeing things upside down, said Mr. Litsinger's law firm is attorney for two of the experts in the suit brought by Tass Chicago Tribune as a taxpayer for return of more than $1,750,000 into the public treasury, in which two defendants already have made restitution of $447,000 to the city.

Thompson Questions Litsinger.

"Litsinger," said Thompson's statement, "why do you condemn your two clients, Frank Koch and Arnold Braun, and their co-defendants on the public platform and charge them with mulcting unlawfully the city out of large sums of money as expert fees, while you as a lawyer are defending these men in a suit to recover these fees, pending and on trial in the Circuit court? If this money was stolen from the city, why do you accept a part of it as a fee to prevent the people from recovering it?"

Another bolt dropped out of the Small-Lundin machine. Harry I. Weisbrod, former representative, who was a supporter of Gov. Small in the last

PANIC ON LINER AVERTED WHEN DANCE IS BEGUN

New York Feb. 10.—(Special)—The United States liner President Harding, six days overdue as a result of springing a leak in a fuel tank while in mid-ocean, arrived today at noon after what her commanding officer, Capt. Theodore Van Beck, described as the worst North Atlantic crossing in his forty-one years at sea.

She was obliged to put into Halifax, and for part of the time was without light or heat. In spite of the hardships suffered, her passengers were united in their praise of the vessel, the officers and the crew.

One of the most dramatic tales told by the passengers was how a scornful chief steward transformed a kneeling, praying, hysterical throng of third class passengers into a joyful party of dancers by assembling a dance orchestra quickly at the height of a storm.

CANNONS, PLANES QUELL REVOLT IN LISBON; MANY DIE

Portuguese Capital Torn by Heavy Shelling.

BY MANUEL LYRA.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 10. After-noon.—The revolution was suppressed last night by the government troops. Calm has been restored throughout the country.

Troops under the dictator, Gen. Carmona, who also is minister of war, came from the north after the surrender of the insurgents at Oporto and entered Lisbon, attacking on both sides.

The end was dramatic. The government artillery and machine guns continuously bombarded the rebels, who were entrenched at the arsenal and the naval barracks at Estrella, San Pedro, and Alcantara, from which points they repelled vigorously. Machine guns mounted on the roofs of houses joined in the firing.

Shots Damage U. S. Legation.
A number of buildings, including the American, Argentine, and Dutch legations, were seriously damaged. Several streets were torn up. The Argentine minister took refuge in the Brazilian embassy and the American minister fled to the house of J. Webb Benton, secretary of the American legation. No Americans at Lisbon or Oporto suffered injury.

The losses were heavy on both sides in Lisbon, with forty dead and 250 wounded, according to latest reports. The known dead at Oporto total fifty.

The revolutionary committee, which engineered the revolt, was in conference for twenty-four hours before their defeated forces informed the government that they would surrender unconditionally. Fighting in Lisbon lasted almost two days. The chiefs, Barboza and Col. Mendes Reis, have been arrested.

Antonio Otavo, former war minister, was killed in the fight when the revolutionaries took over the telegraphic service. However, the government troops again gained control, though the service was interrupted from Monday until this morning. Since Monday no newspapers have been printed.

Forty-four Hour Bombardment.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Feb. 10.—The censorship was lifted today at Lisbon, making it possible to obtain the first clear account of the revolt in Portugal. Gen. Carmona, acting president of Portugal, has triumphed in Lisbon, as in Oporto. It required forty-four hours of bombardment by field and machine guns, as well as torpedoes dropped from the air, to force the surrender of the civil and military rebels.

Reports received here gave the exact time of the suppression of the rebellion at Lisbon as 10 o'clock last night, after terrible fighting that lasted two days and two nights. The end came when military airplanes dropped several torpedoes into the arsenal held by the revolutionaries last night. The white flag was then hoisted. Three successive explosions did immense damage, killing thirty of the besieged rebels and wounding scores.

The rebels consisted mainly of seamen, aided by three companies of republican guards, together with hundreds of armed civilians.

DIVORCE RUMOR IS ALL NEWS TO H. F. McCORMICK

Harold F. McCormick, International Harvester official, greeted yesterday morning upon his arrival on the Century from New York with newspaper stories that his wife, Ganna Walska, the Polish singer, was about to sue him for divorce in Paris, declared that he was tremendously surprised.

"I know absolutely nothing about any such action," he said with emphasis. "Where in the world did such a story come from? I have been in New York and came to Chicago for a few days, primarily to attend the funeral of Charles Dearing."

"That's about all there is to say. O. yes, about that report that I am soon to purchase a yacht and go for a long cruise. That's nonsense."

Clarence Darrow, the attorney who was one of the counsel in the divorce between Harold McCormick and Edith Rockefeller McCormick and who had been mentioned in this current rumor as the lawyer to whom Mr. McCormick was turning over his domestic difficulties, last night denied this entirely.

Ganna Walska, in Paris, gave an equally emphatic denial to the story, which she characterized as "that old chestnut."

"I am mystified," said the singer, "over the constant revival of that stupid rumor. My husband and I are on the best of terms. His business interests take him to America; my operatic engagements compel my residence abroad, at least until spring. Then I hope to go to Chicago. If I cannot, Harold is sure to come over here."

CITIZENS BATTLE AUTO GIN PARTIES IN ROGERS PARK

Parking Ban Demanded at Stormy Meeting.

Incensed by gin bottles strewn on their lawns and by other evidences of partying, 300 residents of Rogers Park, at a mass meeting last night, voted in favor of enforcing a ban on parking in front of their homes.

The meeting, held at the 49th ward Democratic hall, brought to a climax a feud between the property owners and the managers of the new Granada theater, 6477 Sheridan road, at whose patrons the no-parking ordinance is partly aimed.

Because it is expected to set a precedent in an issue vital to all business houses in residential districts, the controversy has attracted city wide attention.

Tells of Night Parties.
"Young people sit in these cars until after midnight," declared W. E. Murphy, 8245 Wayne avenue. "The girls smoke cigarets, then they throw out empty flasks and bottles. Are we going to stand for it?"

From the audience came cries of "No, we won't" and "It's got to stop." James Prendergast, president of the Rogers Park-Loyola Improvement association, who presided, asserted that the parking constituted a fire hazard, a gasoline smoke nuisance and, worse, kept the home owners themselves from parking.

"We don't want this theater," he asserted. "It has brought Wilson avenue to our doors, and we'd be better off if it could be lifted up and put into the lake."

declared that the parking ban would "ruin our business." After investing $2,000,000 in the project, which has boosted property values, he argued, his firm should be supported, not "knifed in the back" by people in the neighborhood.

Speakers Are Hissed.
Two other speakers attempted to explain the viewpoint of the theater interests, but both were hissed and booed. Shortly afterwards, the assembly voted unanimously for the ordinance.

Ald. E. I. Frankhauser pointed out the significance of the issue, which, he said, had two sides. If the ordinance remains in effect, he predicted, scores of other neighborhoods will follow Rogers Park's lead and ask for similar bans that will make it almost impossible for theater-goers to find a place to leave their cars.

The Rogers Park ordinance covers eight blocks of streets in the area bounded by Glenwood, Arthur and Devon avenues and Sheridan road. No parking hours are 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. and 1 p. m. to 12 p. m. Sundays. The ordinance was adopted in July, 1925, but was enforced for only a few days.

SAYS CANADAMAY, ANNEX U. S., BUT NEVER VICE VERSA

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 10.—(AP)—There is a greater possibility of a part of the United States becoming annexed to Canada than of Canada's becoming annexed to the United States, Magistrate W. C. Mikel of Belleville, Ont., said tonight at a meeting of the United Empire Loyalists' Association of Canada.

He said that as time advanced government in the United States was likely to become unwieldy and the large interests of different sections so powerful and conflicting that the United States might find it desirable to break up into sections, having independent, though friendly, systems of government. Some of the border states, he said, might join Canada.

It would not be in the interests of either country for the dominion to become annexed, he stated. Canada had no need for such action, and the future problems of the republic arising from increased population there would make annexation undesirable.

CONGRESS COOLIDGE TOP PRESIDENT'S NAVY SLASH PLEA

Would Limit Cruisers on the 5-5-3 Ratio.

Building competition in cruisers and other auxiliaries and to promote the success of the more comprehensive armament limitation aimed at by the league of nations.

Predict Failure for Plan.
Senators and representatives listened to the message and afterwards, for publication, generally commended the President's move. But the cloakroom reception was far different. The prevailing opinion is that the plan to procure further navy limitation is doomed to failure for the reason that the United States ranks below Great Britain and not far above Japan in auxiliary ships and has no superiority to sacrifice in exchange for a limitation agreement, as in 1921.

Those who believe that President Coolidge must be aware of the futility of begging Great Britain and Japan to sacrifice their superiority in cruisers and other auxiliaries do not hesitate to pronounce the Coolidge move a gesture for political effect.

See Move to Influence House.
Senators are convinced the step was taken and timed with a view to influencing the house to reject the senate amendment providing for immediate construction of the three cruisers the President desired to abandon. The senate amendment is to come before the house next week. Mr. Coolidge wanted the construction of these cruisers abandoned on the ground that it would not be in keeping with our participation in the arms limitation negotiations at Geneva to lay down more ships.

Speaker Longworth (Rep., O.), Senator Hale (Rep., Me.), chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, and other opponents of the President on the cruiser question, take the position that, inasmuch as the United States is far below any limit likely to be imposed on cruiser tonnage if further limitation is achieved, there is no reason why we should not proceed to lay down these three ships. One source floating forth from the cloakrooms is that the President, in moving for further navy limitations, has prepared what he regards as an impressive reason for vetoing the navy appropriation bill if it should come to him with an item for the construction of the three cruisers.

Still another view was taken by some who suspect that the United States is being made a cat's paw to further Machiavellian diplomacy on the part of Great Britain.

Reviews History of Arms Pact.
The President transmitted to congress the text of the memorandum presented to the powers, and in explaining his move he reviewed the history of the Washington conference which halted competition in building capital ships but left other classes open to competition.

"Actually," he said, "I do not believe that competitive building of these classes of ships has begun. Nevertheless, far-reaching building programs have been laid down by certain powers, and there has appeared in our own country, as well as abroad, a sentiment urging naval construction on the ground that such construction is taking place elsewhere. In such sentiments lies the germ of renewed naval competition."

Doubts Geneva Success.
Mr. Coolidge then went on to say that the sessions of the league preparatory armament reduction commission, which are to be resumed at Geneva next month, present an opportune moment for seeking further restriction, "in accordance with the expressed will of congress."

The message is an amplification of the salient features of the memorandum to the powers. In the memorandum, the President pointedly told the powers his fears of the failure of the league effort for armament reduction. He foresees a wreck of the league plans and would save something from the wreckage by procuring agreement on the lesser project of further navy restriction.

Borah in Sympathy.
"I am thoroughly in sympathy with what the President would accomplish," said Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho).

Senator Reed (Dem., Mo.) said he approved, but feared the move will not get anywhere. He thought the President was aiming at the three cruisers appropriation. Senator Moses (Rep., N. H.) didn't see how the proposal could affect the question of the three cruisers. Senator Gerry (Dem., R. I.) thought we would be more successful in getting navy limitation agreements if we were to maintain a navy second to none.

Build Cruisers Anyway, Hale.
"I have always been in favor of extending the provisions of the Washington treaty to other type of ships than capital ships and cruisers," Senator Hale (Rep., Mo.), chairman of the naval affairs committee, said. "The President's proposal is in line with this policy and has nothing to do with the present building program of the navy, which, if carried out, could not raise strength to any limitation level which by any possibility could be adopted by such a conference. On the contrary, the building of new cruisers now contemplated would improve the condition of the United States at such a conference."

Congressman Fred A. Britten (Rep., Ill.), ranking Republican member of the committee on naval affairs, who has been leading the fight on the floor of the house for the appropriation for three additional cruisers, said: "The President says that naval competition in auxiliary ships has not yet arrived. The fact that Japan has laid down or appropriated for 128,000 tons and Great Britain 286,000 tons of auxiliary craft since the Washington conference, as against our meager 129,000 tons, can properly not be called 'competition.'"

"The President's request for a conference is timely and will focus the attention of the world on our disproportionate sea power."

COOLIDGE MESSAGE ON DISARMAMENT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The President's special disarmament message to congress follows:
To the Congress of the United States: Pursuant to my instructions, the American ambassadors at London, Paris, Rome, and Tokyo will today present to the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan a memorandum suggesting that they empower their delegates at the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission for the disarmament conference at Geneva to negotiate and conclude at an early date an agreement further limiting naval armament, supplementing the Washington treaty on that subject, and covering the classes of vessels not covered by that treaty. I transmit herewith, for the information of the congress, a copy of this memorandum.

Gives Motives to Congress.
I wish to inform the congress of the considerations which have moved me to take this action.

The support of all measures looking to the preservation of the peace of the world has been long established as a fundamental policy of this government. The American government and people are convinced that competitive armaments constitute one of the most dangerous contributing causes of international suspicion and discord, and are calculated eventually to lead to war. A recognition of this fact and a desire as far as possible to remove this danger led the American government in 1921 to call the Washington conference.

At that time we were engaged in a great building program, which, upon its completion, would have given us first place on the sea. We felt then, however, and feel now, that the policy we had adopted of competitive self-denial and limitation of naval armament by the great naval powers—promised the attainment of at least one guarantee of peace, an end worthy of mutual adjustment and concession.

All Nations of Same Mind.

At the Washington conference we found the other nations animated with the same desire as ourselves to remove naval competition from the list of possible causes of international discord. Unfortunately, however, it was not possible to reach agreements at Washington covering all classes of naval ships.

The Washington treaty provided a specific tonnage limitation upon capital ships and aircraft carriers, with certain restrictions as to size and maximum caliber of guns for other vessels. Every nation has been at complete liberty to build any number of cruisers, destroyers, and submarines. Only size and armament of cruisers were limited.

The signatories of the Washington treaty have fulfilled their obligations faithfully and there can be no doubt that that treaty constitutes an outstanding success in its operation.

It has been the hope of the American government, constantly expressed by the congress since the Washington conference, that a favorable opportunity might present itself to complete the work begun here by the conclusion of further agreements covering cruisers, destroyers, and submarines. The desirability of such an agreement has been apparent, since it was only to be expected that the spirit of competition, stifled as regards capital ships and aircraft carriers by the Washington treaty, would, sooner or later, show itself with regard to the other vessels not limited under the treaty.

FEARS NAVY RACE REVIVAL

Actually, I do not believe that competitive building of these classes of ships has begun. Nevertheless, far-reaching building programs have been laid down by certain powers, and there has appeared in our own country, as well as abroad, a sentiment urging naval construction on the ground that such construction is taking place elsewhere. In such sentiments lies the germ of renewed naval competition.

I am sure that all governments and all peoples would choose a system of naval limitation in preference to consciously reverting to competitive building. Therefore, in the hope of bringing about an opportunity for discussion among the principal naval powers to ascertain whether further limitation is practicable, I have suggested to them that negotiations on this subject should begin as soon as possible.

The moment seems particularly opportune to try to secure further limitation of armament in accordance with the expressed will of the congress. The earnest desire of the nations of the world to relieve themselves in great measure of the burden of armaments and to avoid the dangers of competition has been shown by the establishment of the preparatory commission for the disarmament conference, which met in Geneva last May, and which is continuing its work with a view of preparing the agenda for a final general conference.

For more than six months, representatives of a score or more of nations have examined from all points of view the problem of the reduction and limitation of armaments. In these discussions it was brought out very clearly that a number of nations felt that land, sea, and air armaments were interdependent and that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to agree upon the limitation of one type of armament without simultaneously limiting the other types.

Deadlock Looms at Geneva.

The consequence to be feared is that a deadlock will be reached, should even partial progress in the reduction of armaments be conditioned upon the acceptance of some universal plan covering land, sea, and air forces together. If the prospective deadlock cannot be broken, it is probable that little progress will be made for the time being.

It appears to me to be the duty of this government, which has always advocated limitation of armaments, to endeavor to suggest some avenue by which concrete results may be achieved even though such results may be short of an ultimate ideal solution for the threefold problem of land, sea and air armament.

Our delegates at Geneva have consistently expressed the view that under conditions as they exist in the world today the problem of land and air armaments are most susceptible of solution by regional agreements covering regions within which the land or air armaments of one country could constitute a potential threat to another country. Geographical conditions have been suggested as regions appropriate for land and air limitation agreements.

The American land and air forces constitute a threat to no one. They are at minimum strength; their reduction has been suggested by no one as a necessary condition precedent to general arms limitation. This reduction of our land forces has been rendered possible by our favored geographical position.

I realize that the problems of armaments on land and in the air in Europe are beset with difficulties which in all justice we must recognize and, although this government will always be ready to lend its assistance in any appropriate way to efforts on the part of European or other governments to arrive at regional agreements limiting land and air forces, it would hesitate to make specific proposals on this subject to European nations.

The problem of the limitation of naval armament, while not regional in character or susceptible of regional treatment, has been successfully treated, in part, by an agreement among the five leading naval powers, and in my opinion, can be definitively dealt with by further agreements among those powers.

It will be a contribution to the success of the preliminary work now going on at Geneva should the great naval powers at that place agree upon a further definite limitation of naval armament.

Continue General Conference.
It is my intention that the American representatives at Geneva should continue to discuss with the representatives of the other nations there the program for general limitation of armaments. If such a conference should be possible in the future, on a basis generally acceptable, this government would, of course, be highly gratified.

Pending the formulation of the plan for such a general conference, however, I believe that we should make an immediate and sincere effort to solve the problem of naval limitation, the solution of which would do much to make the efforts toward more general limitation successful.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

MEMORANDUM TO POWERS

The memorandum to the four powers follows:

"The American government has followed with close attention the proceedings of the preparatory commission for the disarmament conference, and, after the most careful deliberation, has concluded that it can helpfully make certain observations at this time which it hopes may contribute materially to the success of that commission—a success earnestly desired by the government and people of the United States.

"The conviction that the competitive augmentation of national armaments has been one of the principal causes of international suspicion and ill will, leading to war, is firmly held by the American government and people. Hence the American government has neglected no opportunity to lend its sympathy and support to international efforts to reduce and limit armaments.

Beginning Made in 1922.

"The success of the Washington conference of 1921-22 demonstrated that other powers were animated with a similar desire to do away with this dangerous source of international discord. The Washington conference made a beginning, however, and it has been the continued hope of the American government, since 1922, that the task undertaken at Washington by the group of naval powers could be resumed and completed.

"For this reason, the American government was happy to observe that the efforts looking towards the holding of a general international conference for the limitation of armament, which had been in progress for several years under the auspices of the league of nations, had reached, in December, 1925, a stage sufficiently advanced, in the opinion of the council of the league of nations, to warrant the establishment of the preparatory commission, to meet in 1926, to prepare the ground for an international conference at an early date."

U. S. at Minimum Strength.

The memorandum then recites the progress made by the preparatory commission, expresses a desire for more concrete results, and continues: "The American government, as its representatives on the preparatory commission have repeatedly stated, feels that land and air armaments constitute essentially regional problems to be solved primarily by regional agreements. The American army and air force are at minimum strength. Agreement for land and air limitation in other regions of the world would not be dependent upon the reduction or limitation of American land and air forces.

"Therefore, the American government does not feel that it can appropriately offer definite suggestions to other powers in regard to the limitation of these categories of armaments, which met in Geneva last May, and which is continuing its work with a view of preparing the agenda for a final general conference."

"The problem of the limitation of naval armament, while not regional in character, can be dealt with as a practical matter by measures affecting the navies of a limited group of powers. This has been clearly established by the success of the Washington treaty limiting naval armament."

Points Out American Interest.

"The United States, as the initiator of the Washington conference, and as one of the principal naval powers, has a direct interest in this question, and, being both ready and willing to enter into an agreement further limiting naval armament, feels itself privileged to indicate a course of procedure which, in its opinion, lead to such an agreement."

"The discussions over a period of six months in Geneva have been most useful in the opportunity afforded for the exchange of views as to the general problem of naval limitation, and on the basis of these discussions it is felt that there is a possibility of reconciling many of the divergent views which have been expressed in such manner as to meet the requirements of the naval powers and enable them to decide upon acceptable measures of limitation."

"In order to advance definitely toward a limitation agreement, the government of the United States takes this method of addressing an inquiry to the government signatories of the Washington treaty limiting naval armament as to whether they are disposed to empower their representatives at the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission to initiate negotiations looking toward an agreement providing for limitation in the classes of naval vessels not covered by the Washington treaty."

"The American government is not unmindful of the fact that the preparatory commission is not specifically charged with the duty of concluding international agreements, and that its task is primarily that of preparing the agenda for a conference to be called at a later date.

Would Not Interfere.

"Nevertheless, being sincerely desirous of the success of the preparatory commission, the American government makes this suggestion in the firm belief that the conclusion at Geneva, as soon as possible, among the signatories of the Washington treaty, of an agreement for further naval limitation, far from interfering with or detracting from the success of the preparatory commission, would constitute a valuable contribution to the sum of achievement attributable to that commission and would facilitate the task of the final conference in dealing with the particularly complex problems of land and air armament, perhaps capable of solution for the present only by regional limitation agreements."

On Basis of Washington Pact.

After reiterating his fears that the Geneva general disarmament conference may not achieve an agreement for some time the President goes on:

"The American government feels that the general principles of the Washington treaty offer a suitable basis for further discussion among its signatories."

"Although hesitating at this time to put forward rigid proposals as regards the ratio of naval strength to be maintained by the different powers, the American government, for its part, is disposed to accept, in regard to these classes of vessels not covered by the Washington treaty, an extension of the 5-5-3 ratio as regards the United States, Great Britain, and Japan, and to leave to discussion at Geneva the ratios of France and Italy, taking into full account their special conditions and requirements in regard to the types of vessels in question."

"Ratios for capital ships and aircraft carriers were established by that treaty which would not be affected in any way by an agreement covering other classes of ships."

Delegates Empowered to Act.

"The American representatives at the forthcoming meeting at Geneva will, of course, participate fully in the discussions looking to the preparation of an agenda for a final general conference for the limitation of armament. In addition, they will have full powers to negotiate definitely stated measures for further naval limitation, and, if they are able to reach agreement with the representatives of the other signatories of the Washington treaty, to conclude a convention embodying such agreement, in tentative or final form, as may be found practicable."

"The American government earnestly hopes that the institution of such negotiations at Geneva may be agreeable to the governments of the British Empire, France, Italy, and Japan, and that comprehensive limitation of all types of naval armament may be brought into effect among the principal naval powers without delay."

England, France and Japan Welcome Navy Conference

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 10.—"France welcomes all proposals aimed to reduce armaments generally and would be happy to see a development of the Washington accords, which limited only certain categories of naval forces," said an official spokesman for Quai d'Orsay this evening following Ambassador Myron T. Herrick's call on Foreign Minister Briand this noon, when the ambassador submitted President Coolidge's plea for further curtailment of navy building by the world powers.

"Restrictions on submarines, light cruisers, and other smaller craft must apply to all nations the shipyards of which are capable of constructing war vessels," said the spokesman. "Also, France maintains the viewpoint that submarines are defensive arms, necessary to maintain contact with its huge African empire, Algeria, Morocco, Congo, Madagascar, and the Far East, keeping trade routes open and insuring transportation for troops to the home country against possible attack from the continent."

Reception in London.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) LONDON, Feb. 10.—The British foreign office, while unwilling to discuss President Coolidge's call for a new disarmament conference before adequate study of the text, says it is in favor of the principle of further disarmament and is ready at any time to discuss the details.

Japan Reserves Decision.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) TOKIO, Feb. 11.—The navy office, while declaring it is not opposed to the Coolidge naval limitations plan, states Japan is already committed to a proposal for further naval limitations on the basis of total tonnage, having subscribed to the resolution of the preliminary disarmament subcommittee at Geneva to this effect.

The foreign office repeats that Japan will always be found ready to participate in any conference offering a prospect of success although refusing to make a definite statement of its position regarding the Coolidge proposal.

Reception in Italy.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) ROME, Feb. 10.—The Italian foreign office said it was impossible to make a statement tonight on President Coolidge's proposal for further naval limitation, but there is a general impression in Rome that Ambassador Fletcher's demand will be accepted in principle. Certain reservations will be made, however, which will limit the scope of the conference largely to the construction of capital ships.

Thus Tassinari understands that Premier Mussolini assured Ambassador Fletcher that the proposal would be given the most careful scrutiny.

Reaction at Geneva.

GENEVA, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Reaction at Geneva to President Coolidge's recommendation for a supplementary five power naval accord was twofold. The league of nations was happy to see anything done to further the cause of disarmament, but this was coupled with doubt as to whether France and Italy and even Great Britain would see their way clear to negotiating a naval agreement limiting cruisers, destroyers and submarines, unless the accord was linked up with an agreement on military and aviation problems.

BIRGER IS JAILED AT BENTON ON MURDER CHARGE

Gangster Held in Killing of 300 Pound Mayor.

(Pictures on back page.)
Benton, Ill., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Machine Gun Charlie Birger, leader of the gang that bears his name, was lodged in jail here today as an accomplice in the murder of Joe Adams, 310 pound mayor of West City, last December.

The arrest of Birger by Sheriff Pritchard of Mount Vernon culminates the efforts of Franklin county authorities who for two months have sought to bring Birger into court to answer to the murder charge.

Birger's arrest was made in the courtroom at Mount Vernon this morning, after he had been denied a writ of habeas corpus by Judge J. C. Kern. He was immediately brought to Benton under heavy guard and his bond was fixed at $42,500. His attorneys said this amount would be furnished tomorrow.

Followed by Pritchard.
Birger last night was taken from the Harrisburg jail, where yesterday he defied Sheriff Pritchard with a machine gun. Under heavy guard he was

HUBBARD PAYS, AND MISS CALDWELL SUIT IS OFFICIALLY CLOSED

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—The Hubbard-Caldwell breach of promise case was settled today when counsel for John W. Hubbard, wealthy manufacturer, handed a check for $50,000 to attorneys representing Miss Anne Caldwell, New York musical comedy actress. The sum represented the damages awarded Miss Caldwell by a jury.

The settlement came as a surprise, for Hubbard began an appeal for a new trial after a similar motion had been denied. Miss Caldwell sued for $100,000, alleging that the manufacturer proposed marriage to her in Atlantic City, but later refused to wed her.

Hubbard, it is announced, feels that too many of his friends had been brought into the case, and he desires to avoid any further notoriety.

taken first to Marion and then to Mount Vernon, where he arrived at 4 a. m. The convoy was followed by Pritchard, who appeared in Judge Kern's court simultaneously with Birger.

Birger was unarmed and apparently in a good humor when he reached Benton, the stronghold of the Birgers, implacable foes of the Birgers. "I have no saws," he said, as he was searched. "Don't worry, I'm not going to try to break out of jail. You've had a hard enough time getting me here."

He pulled two machine gun shells from his pocket and laid them on the jailer's desk.
"Guess I won't need these here," he said, with a smile, and Sheriff Pritchard said, "No, you won't, not here."

In the meantime, the search for the body of Mrs. Ethel Price, young wife of Lory Price, slain highway policeman of Williamson county, was still on today. Price and his wife disappeared from their home near Madison on the night of Jan. 17. The body of Price was found in a field near Nashville, Washington county, last Saturday. He had been shot 13 times and his neck was broken. It is feared that his wife has met a similar fate.

Dennis Giving Birger Gun.
Harrisburg, Ill., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Lige Turner of Saline county disclaimed any knowledge of a machine gun which Sheriff James Pritchard of Franklin county said he saw in the cell of Charles Birger, southern Illinois gang leader, yesterday. Saline county deputies acknowledged giving the gangster a machine gun "for protection" against rival gangsters yesterday.

"If there was any machine gun in Birger's cell I know nothing of it," he said. "I make this statement that people may know that I am not taking any sides with any set of gangsters."

Tells Why He Didn't Arrest.
In a lengthy statement why he had failed to serve a six weeks old warrant charging Birger with complicity in the murder of Joe Adams, mayor of West City, Ill.

Several days after the killing of Adams, he said, Pritchard came to him with the warrant and left it with him to serve.

The next afternoon, Turner averred, a federal officer approached him, asking him not to arrest Birger, as the gangster was needed at Quincy, Ill., as a government witness at the trial of the three Shelton brothers now in prison following conviction on charges of mail robbery.

Turner would not name the federal agent.

GARY, 25 YEARS IN OFFICE, GAZES AT STEEL EXIT

Former Governor Miller
Seen as Successor.

New York, Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Elliott H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors and chief executive officer of the United States Steel corporation, plans to retire within the present year. His successor, already virtually chosen by himself, although not yet accepted by all the directors, will be ex-Gov. Nathan L. Miller.

This information, says the New York World, comes from sources intimately familiar with the affairs of the corporation, is not to be offset by diplomatic denials or refusals to comment by the principals involved.

Was Farmer Boy.
Mr. Gary, erstwhile farmer boy, lawyer, and country judge, in Illinois, has been head of the world's largest industrial enterprise more than a quarter of a century. He celebrated his eightieth birthday Oct. 8 last.

Since then, through declaration of a 40 per cent stock dividend, he has seen gratifying fruition of the years of conservative management insisted upon by him and concurred in by George F. Baker and J. P. Morgan. These have constituted an all powerful trio in the councils of the company which has assets of nearly $2,000,000,000.

Annual Meeting in April.
The milestones marked by this dividend, which cannot be distributed until the shareholders take authorizing action at their annual meeting next April, offers Mr. Gary, according to report, a logical occasion for relinquishing the reins so long held. It is said he would like to drop active work and devote himself to world travel, in which he delights. The problem has been to pick some one who can fill his shoes. On the other hand, he has been quoted as wishing to continue on the job as long as he is physically able to do so.

Mr. Miller, whom rumor names as Gary's successor, is 53. He achieved distinction as an upstate lawyer before entering politics. Prior to his term as governor, 1921-23, the apex of his public career was as associate judge of the Court of Appeals. He resigned in 1915 and resumed the practice of law.

ASKING $100,000, OBERTA SUES 7 ON POLICE SQUAD

Following the example of his sponsor, Joseph Salts, south side gangster, John Oberta, candidate for alderman in the Thirtieth ward, yesterday filed suit for $100,000 damages against a squad of Chicago police, charging false arrest, malicious prosecution, and assault and battery, all on Jan. 14.

"I'm depending upon the courts to help me," Oberta declared. "I wouldn't think of using violence against the police who, I say, have persecuted me. I have been accused of being a gangster and hoodlum, but I am going to prove that I abide by the law in seeking redress through the peaceable medium of the courts."

Named as defendants in the suit were Lieut. William Liebeck and Detectives Daniel Healy, Albert Ruff, Matthew Cunningham, Daniel Keough, William Doyle, and Peter Carney. He was attacked by them, Oberta charged, as a result of a political conspiracy.

PEKING DEFIES WU; OPENS DRIVE ON CANTON ARMY

Chang Rallies War Lords to Repel Invaders.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, China, Feb. 10.—A change in the Chinese internal war situation developed today when Marshal Chang Tso-lin at Peking issued an ultimatum to Marshal Wu Peifu, central China leader, demanding permission to transport his Fengtien forces into Marshal Wu's territory in Honan province, declaring that in event of his refusal to cooperate Gen. Chang was determined to force the issue.

Marshal Chang's declaration designates the Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang, and the Cantonese leader, Gen. Chang Kai-shek, as belatedly, and says it is necessary for the Fengtien troops to take the field immediately to drive the Cantonese out of their Han-kow base.

Chang Calls for War.

Marshal Chang sent messages today to the northern war lords allied with him in the defense of the Peking government, outlining the plans for a concerted drive against the southern (Cantonese) forces to push them back to their home province, Kwangtung. Chang seeks to advance through Honan province and then into Hupeh and Hunan provinces, forcing the Cantonese before him. The southerners now control about half of China.

The advance already has begun in Chihli province. Cooperation by the generals allied to Wu Peifu is ordered by Marshal Chang, who says he will tolerate no opposition.

He demands that the Fengtien troops be allowed to advance into the northern Honan town of Chingto, on the Peking-Hankow railway, forcing the retirement of Gen. Chi Hsieh-yuan, an important Chihli party militant and ally of Marshal Wu.

Wu Warns of Trouble.

Marshal Wu, replying to Gen. Chang's ultimatum, asks a delay in the Fengtien advance, warning Gen. Chang against a "possible misunderstanding." Wu demands that Chang advance no farther than Changtze.

Japanese reports from Peking say Gen. Chang's ultimatum is interpreted as a war declaration, causing a crisis in the Peking government, with the possible abdication of the Wellington Koo cabinet, which is the group of Marshal Wu.

Gen. Chang Hsueh-hang, son of the

DRIVE AT CANTON

The northern China war lords, headed by Marshal Chang Tso-lin of Manchuria, have launched a drive aiming to push the Cantonese, who have conquered about half of China, back to their home province of Kwangtung.

Chang will aim to drive the Cantonese from their base at Hankow, then through Hunan province and into Kwangtung.

Marshal Wu Peifu, central China leader, who has been virtually bottled up in Honan province as a result of the Cantonese drive, has defied Chang and demanded that he halt his advance at Changtze, on the northern Honan border.

Mukden war lord, has hurried to Shantung province to confer with Gen. Chang Chung-chang, the Shantung tuchun, in order to obtain his assistance against Marshal Wu.

Chinese politicians in Shanghai believe the Fengtien move will throw Marshal Wu and possibly Gen. Sun Chuan-fang, the Yangtze ally of the northerners into the southern ranks.

An airplane believed to belong to Gen. Sun Chuan-fang's forces flew over the foreign settlements today, creating excitement among the Chinese, who thought it was a British plane.

U. S. Marines Reach Shanghai.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—[U.P.]—The U. S. S. Peccos with 258 marines arrived at Shanghai yesterday from Cavite, Philippine islands, the navy department announced today. The marines will await further orders from Admiral Clarence S. Williams, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 10.—The United States transport Chaumont, with 1,300 marines on board, departed at 1 p. m. today—officially for Guam—but unofficial opinion among the marine officers aboard is that they will be

TO REGAIN HANKOW ZONE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The British concession at Hankow is to be returned to the British municipal council, to be administered by a newly elected council. An agreement on this and other equally important developments has been reached in the new negotiations between the British chargé d'affaires, Owen O'Malley, and the Cantonese foreign minister, Eugene Chen, Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, announced tonight in the house of commons.

The Prince of Wales and the Archbishop of York were present at the session.

Sir Austen said the agreement provided that all funds raised in the concession should be spent by the municipality with a joint Sino-British auditing. The Chinese expect to be entitled to the same rights as the British subjects in that area.

Agrees on Arbitration.

Foreign Minister Chen, Sir Austen continued, is prepared to give assurance that the outstanding questions between the Chinese nationalists and the foreign powers shall be settled by negotiations.

The British government, in view of these assurances, is prepared to lend only such troops as may be necessary for the protection of British lives. These will be stationed within the settlement and moved outside only on grave emergency. Great Britain will continue to maintain strict neutrality in the civil war in China.

If the foregoing assurances are accepted, Sir Austen said, only the Indian troops, now on the way to Shanghai from Hongkong, will be landed at Shanghai, as the government is informed that such a procedure is immediately necessary to safeguard British lives. Further troops from the Mediterranean and home centers will be concentrated at Hongkong and will not proceed to Shanghai unless they also are required by new dangers.

Sir Austen's announcement was in reply to the official Socialist amendment to the king's address. A motion was made by C. P. Trevelyan, one of the former Labor ministers, deploring the dispatch of armed forces as likely to increase the risk to British subjects in China, and to obstruct the friendly relations with the Chinese people. Mr. Trevelyan accused the government of shaking the "matted nest" at China. He demanded diversion or recall of British troops now on the way to China.

His motion was defeated by 320 votes to 113.

Beck Asks House to Bar 3rd Term to President

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—A resolution expressing opposition to a third presidential term was introduced in the house today by Representative Beck (Rep., Wis.).

In a statement Mr. Beck, who is one of the La Follette insurgent group, said that it was aimed at President Coolidge, whose reelection in 1928 "would destroy the third term tradition of 140 years' standing as completely as if it had never existed."

It is understood that Senator Cawway (Dem., Ark.) had intended to introduce the same resolution in the senate, but that Democratic leaders had persuaded him not to do so.

Text of Resolution.

The Beck resolution follows: "Resolved, that, in the opinion of this house, the president established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States, in retiring from the presidential office after their second term, has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwelcome, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

Representative Beck, in his statement, referred to the argument that inasmuch as President Coolidge will have served only six years on March 4, 1929, the third term tradition should not be raised as a bar to his reelection.

Cites 140 Years' Precedent.

"The complete answer to this argument is found in the fact that if re-elected in 1928, President Coolidge will serve until March 4, 1933, or ten years from the time he first took the oath of office and assumed the presidency, in August, 1923," Mr. Beck said.

"He would occupy the first office in our governmental establishment, clothed with greater powers than ever have been attached to it in all our history, two years longer than the nine great Presidents who have heretofore served two terms and more than twice as long as nineteen other Presidents who have served single terms."

MEXICANS CRUSH YAQUIS IN THEIR LOFTY CAPITAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10.—Gen. Lucas Gamas, with part of the 3,000 federal troops with which he is guarding the north and northeast. Bacatete mountains, marched upon Torocobampo, the Yaqui stronghold on the eastern side of the Bacatete mountains. Gen. Gamas and his forces encamped for the night in the Valley of Death, between the Bacatete and a mountain range further east, and began a march before daylight. The battle opened at 9 a. m., and continued until after 1 p. m., when the Indians retreated to the hills, leaving many dead and carrying off the wounded.

At Torocobampo Gen. Gamas got possession of the Bacatete spring and will make his headquarters there for a further advance into the mountains. The Mexican general now holds Bacatete and Bacatito, two northern strongholds of the Yaquis, which also are provided with excellent springs.

Gen. Antonio Rios Zertuche, who is holding the southern end of the Bacatete mountains from the foothills, also had a brush with some 200 Yaquis yesterday, but the Indians, having nothing to defend themselves with, soon retreated. Gen. Zertuche is expected to make the next advance into the Bacatete mountains with 1,000 men as part of a plan to force the Indians into intricate parts of the hills where the living is more difficult and the chances of getting outside help are greatly reduced.

With the arrival of more army transports from the uplands, 2,000 infantry now are patrolling day and night the great army highway of 300 miles surrounding the Bacatete mountains.

Within the last ten days the advances of troops have shortened the line about the mountains by fifty miles.

DIXIE METHODIST LEADERS OPPOSE EVOLUTION BAN

Fight All Laws to Curb Teaching Science.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Expressing belief that legislation which would "interfere with the proper teaching of science in American schools and colleges is futile and can serve no good," the Education Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church South went on record here today almost unanimously as opposed to such legislation. There were only two dissenting votes.

"We, the members of the Education Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, have put ourselves on record as opposed to all legislation that would interfere with the proper teaching of science in American schools and colleges."

"We are opposed to all legislation of that sort because we believe it to be futile and can serve no good," said the resolution, adopted with only two dissenting votes.

Favors Bold Course.

The measure was introduced by Dr. W. P. Pew, president of Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Those who signed the paper were G. F. Winfield, newly elected president of the association and president of Lon Morris college, in Texas; W. E. Hogan, secretary, and presidents of many other colleges.

Dr. J. C. Roper of the Upper South Carolina conference, declared "in favor of the bold course."

"If science can give us more light, God knows I want it," Dr. Roper said. "I think we might add in the resolution that we are not agreeing with the agnostic Clarence Darrow," he said. His amendment, however, was not acted upon.

"The Methodist people as a whole are against religious legislation," Dr. Winfield said. "If we stop it by law the modern youth of this country will say, 'Why, our own church is trying to block our way to enlightenment,' and they will lose respect for the church. Studying the results of scientific research will do no harm, for wherever you go, in either science or theology, you'll find Christ. Truth is as eternal as God."

Kills Anti-Evolution Bill.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The Rotenberry anti-evolution bill, which would have prohibited the teaching of evolution in tax supported schools of Arkansas, was killed today by the senate.

Voted Down Without Debate.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The state house of representatives, without debate, today killed the anti-evolution bill.

STATE PREPARES FINAL DETAILS FOR CROARKIN TRIAL

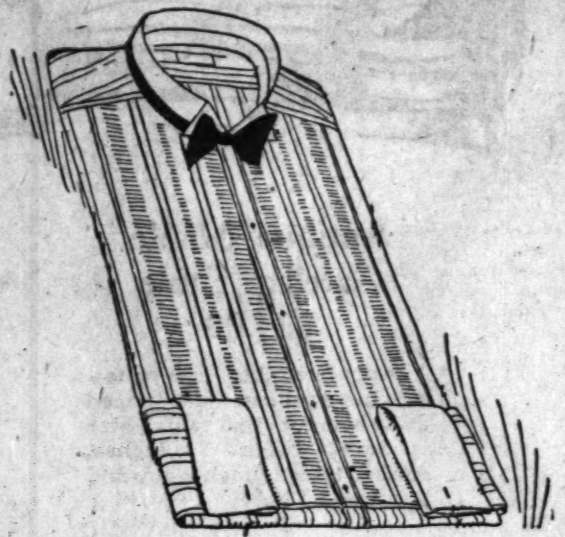

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and his special assistant, Joseph P. Savage, questioned twenty or more witnesses yesterday in preparation for the trial of Harold Croarkin, confessed slayer of 6 year old Walter Schmitt Jr. Croarkin will go to trial

Monday before Chief Justice William J. Lindsay, and an insanity defense is expected.

Among those questioned were eight Loyola university fellow students of Croarkin. Edward Muno, 2381 Devon avenue, who is said to have given the first information against Croarkin, also was questioned.

Heretofore he would not definitely say he had seen Croarkin in the riding academy stable at the time of the crime, but yesterday he said he was positive he had seen him.

MUNICIPALITIES OF STATE VOTE FOR HOME RULE

Plan United Fight Against Public Utilities.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—The Illinois Municipal league, composed of Illinois cities and villages with a total population of 4,865,000 persons, closed its convention here today by passing unanimously a resolution calling for public utility home rule.

Prepared by a subcommittee of which Corporation Counsel Francis X. Enoch of Chicago is chairman, the resolution began:

"Trial and experience under the public utility acts of Illinois enacted in 1913 and 1921 have demonstrated that a state regulatory commission cannot act by its own investigations, know and understand the local utility problems existing in each municipality in this state, nor on its own motion provide adequate relation and supervision in the public interest over all public utilities in every part of the state."

Damages Inherent.

It continued, that through the Illinois Supreme court decisions in the Atwood and Northern Trust company cases, the public was "exposed to the dangers inherent in insufficiently regulated utility operation," asserted that the present regulation was "slow, burdensome, expensive, and unsatisfactory," and gave utilities an advantage over the municipalities in the presentation of petitions.

It stated that the bill introduced by Representative David H. McClugage of Peoria in the house met the present need.

And it concluded: "The Illinois Municipal league does not fully endorse the principle that municipalities ought, of right, to have power, by the free choice of their inhabitants, to acquire adequate powers of local self-government over local public utilities occupying their streets and serving their inhabitants, and to assume legislative and administrative responsibility for local regulation of such utilities as a municipal function."

It then formally endorsed enactment of the McClugage bill.

Line Up for Battle.

In addition to this commitment to home rule, the league passed a resolution which will line up its 336 member municipalities against public utilities seeking to raise rates or cut service before the Illinois commerce commission.

The league's executive committee was empowered to appoint a committee and appropriate funds in order that any action by a utility before the commission might be met, not by one single municipality, but by the full force of the league.

Mayor E. R. Kelly of Elgin was elected new president of the league. Mayor E. B. Crabtree of Jacksonville, retiring from that office, demanded to know in his valedictory address why it is that public officials never are really respected.

"As a banker," he declared, "I was trusted by many people with affairs of great importance. Then I became mayor and I learned what every public official knows—that when a man steps into office a shroud of suspicion descends upon him."

ASK AUTHORITY TO DRAFT DECEMBER TAX CUT MEASURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folk. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens,

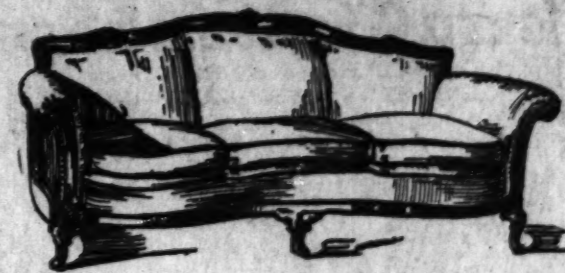

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

To Have Nice White Hands in Winter

Many women have recently learned how to have soft, pretty, white hands even in winter, regardless of the kind of work they have to do. Many of our shop girls have beautiful, soft, pretty white hands because they have learned how to care for them and at little cost. The secret lies in rubbing a little Ice-Mint into the hands occasionally, especially just before retiring at night. The morning you will be awfully surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties, whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should have pretty hands as they are really the true mark of refinement. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

INDIANA AWAKENS.

A preliminary vote of the Indiana senate indicates that a resolution instructing the attorney general of the state to withdraw from the lake levels suit will be passed. Indiana is now among the states supporting Wisconsin in its fight to cut off the diversion from Lake Michigan. Why Indiana's law officers took that side is not clear. Probably it was just the neighborliness which presumes that whatever the man next door does is wrong.

Indiana's interest in the great lakes suit is identical with Illinois'. The towns of the Calumet district, like Chicago, take their drinking water from Lake Michigan. The state government of Indiana, by seeking to cut off the diversion, is petitioning for pestilence in the northern counties of the state. The current in the lake is southward and government reports show that the lake off the Indiana shore is already dangerously polluted. If Chicago's sewage is not discharged into the drainage canal but into the lake it will drift into the drinking water of Hammond, Gary, and points east.

Stupidity did not stop there. The basis of prosperity of all the booming towns of northern Indiana is steel. The golf waterway will benefit the steel industry perhaps more than any other. It will provide a cheaper method of bringing coaling coal to the smelters on the shores of Lake Michigan and it will provide cheaper transportation for the finished products of the mills. The golf waterway will not amount to much without the water from Lake Michigan. Indiana's industrial interest was on one side and her voice on the other.

Indiana's industries are a relatively new source of wealth, a fact which may explain why the government at Indianapolis paid no attention to the demands of the northern counties. We find no reason at all to explain the indifference of the government to the welfare of the farming population. The golf waterway is demanded by farmers of every other state likely to benefit from it, because the waterway will force freight rates down and every dollar saved on freight will go into the farmers' pockets. Surely no one believes any more that the improvement of one river—the Ohio, for example—will make a prosperous waterway. The Ohio, like the Illinois and the Missouri, is but an arm of a waterway system which must function as a whole. The money spent on improving the Ohio will not do the farmers of Indiana much good, although the Ohio is the southern boundary of the state, until the Ohio becomes a part of a larger whole. It is astonishing that the legislature of Indiana has been blind to the interest of the state all these years. It is nearly too late now to correct the error of misguided legislation.

HENRY FORD ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

There is a bill in the Michigan legislature to restore capital punishment. Henry Ford says he is against that. He does not believe in killing. A great many people do not believe in it. Some do not believe that the state should execute a killer in punishment for his crime. That is why such states as Michigan and Wisconsin do not punish murder with death.

Coffey, a really infernal murderer, had a five minute trial in Wisconsin and was sentenced for life. That was the maximum punishment he could be given, and it was given him with a minimum of time and expense. Wisconsin justice frequently is expeditious in this fashion, and it is an argument against capital punishment that murder cases can be disposed of without scandalous trials if the social problem of a life for a life is not involved. That assumes that a process is had because the guilty person fights so hard to avoid it. To escape death as a penalty is regarded as getting off easy. In the case of Coffey, who deserted his wife and family, married another woman bigamously, robbed her, beat her to death, and buried her dismembered body, it certainly was getting off easy.

Mr. Ford might be expected to have some peculiar reasons for having whatever opinions he has. He observes that financiers years ago taught the doctrine of killing in order to get a profitable war. They are now rooting for capital punishment. They want to harden the sensibilities of people, for it serves their ends to have war.

Mr. Ford's solvency has been of some current interest because of the government tax suit against Senator Couzens and others who sold Ford stock. Mr. Ford is appraised at about $2,000,000,000. In spite of this comfortable sum he is not regarded as one of the financiers, but he might tell them how to hate war and make money. It can be done.

Mr. Ford thinks that if the finances of the country were properly adjusted there would be jobs for the boys who commit murders and other crimes. He believes that murderers would rather work than kill and do kill because they cannot work. The financiers do not provide the work. We must assume that they do not do this because they want to produce murderers. When they have this manufactured murderers they want to hang them. These people are not people. They are ready for killing. If Michigan returns to capital punishment Wall Street will get the country a war, somewhere, somehow, maybe a big one, maybe only a little one, but a war.

Mr. Ford says that if the people who believe in capital punishment had to execute the law themselves they would turn and run from the idea. The sheriff is in charge of executions, and we observe here in Cook county that prominent men of family every four years devote time, activity, and money trying to get into the sheriff's office. They know they will have to march some convicted murderers to the gallows. Even in Cook county murderers sometimes are executed. We have never observed any aversion in politics for the office.

It is American doctrine that if a man can make a lot of money by shrewdness, talent, or genius in one line he is thereby revealed as endowed by his condition with wisdom. It is inconceivable to many Americans that a great deal of money can be foolish or that preeminence in one thing does not indicate preeminence in all things. The opinions of the champion horsehoe tosser would be important on the platform because he is the champion horsehoe tosser. Any distinction indicates profundity and distinction in money the greatest profundity. A man who can make a good mouse trap would make a better secretary of state, and in no other quarter is this so thoroughly accepted as it is by the person himself.

Good old Henry Ford—so long as he is with us he will be with us all over the place.

GREAT BRITAIN TURNS US DOWN. THANKS.

The United States department of state has accepted that Great Britain will be unable to accept the reservations conditional upon which the United States, by the decision of the senate, will join the world court. What Great Britain liked least of all was the American provision that the United States would not be governed by advisory opinions of the world court for which it had not asked. Two other nations, it was announced, have joined in declining to accept the United States on its own terms.

President Coolidge has said that the senate reservations were not open to discussion and that they could not be carried into conference with the league of nations or with the nations separately. The administration had no authority to consider modifications because it had no authority to make them. The senate does not negotiate with other nations and unless of its own initiative it wanted to change its decisions it was entirely up to the other countries to accept or reject the American proposal as it stood.

Americans who opposed the submission of the United States to the world court on any terms feel indebted to Great Britain and others associated in the rejection. Although the reservations destroyed nearly all the project of the American pro-courtiers, a seat in the league for court purposes was a liability and one which had power of expansion. It was a leg in the gypper.

Statements by senators indicate that there is no prospect of the senate receding from its position and we hope that Great Britain will be quite as determined. If that proves to be the case this episode in American adventure abroad may be considered closed.

American experiences since the senate was pushed into doing what it did for the court clique by the Bok promotion have indicated the prudence and wisdom of complete separation from European influences, decisions, and purposes. These experiences in themselves are perplexing enough without the complications of alien interference.

For one instance, we have the military treaty negotiated with Panama, which knocks out in form and essence Panama's agreement with the league of nations. Legally, we suppose Panama had no right to make the treaty which it and the United States both need for the protection of the canal. It declares Panama a participant in any war involving the United States. In fact it will be, but, in recognizing that, Panama violated the league requirement not to declare war until opportunity has been given for peaceful adjustment. The blunder in Panama's joining the league. We do not want this treaty submitted to foreign question or interpretation and if the United States is free from any European commitments it will be free from the possibility of authoritative interference.

Americans opposed to the court have been accused of striking the purposes of the court and the league. We doubt that they can be stretched when the purposes of the pacific influences in the United States are considered. We have just had an instance of these influences forcing through a unanimous vote in the senate for arbitration of the dispute between the United States and Mexico.

The highly probable consequence of American submission would be the abdication of the American administration in foreign affairs.

If Great Britain or any other nation for any reason whatever will keep the United States out of the world court there'll be reason for being everlastingly obliged.

Editorial of the Day

CHURCHMEN AS POLITICIANS.

[The N. Y. World.]

Comments from the latest "Clip Sheet" issued by the board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church include the following:

Gov. Ritchie is unacceptable [as a Democratic candidate].

Gov. Smith cannot be elected.

A good many persons will be ready to suggest, once again the name of Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo.

His nomination was prevented twice by methods which cannot possibly be justified.

There are old fashioned clergymen who might think that these are strange maxims to issue from a federation of Christian churches. There are old fashioned clergymen who might think that the politics of a Democratic candidacy and the question of who can and cannot be elected are no business of the church. These clergymen, if they are Methodists, are out of date. For the Methodist church has established a lobby in Washington which pays more attention to the chances of Gov. Ritchie than to the maxims of the Prince of Peace.

The Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals prides itself, like the Ku Klux Klan, on keeping a record of "the religious and fraternal affiliations" of men in public life. It gives advice to congress, tries to boss conventions, and has long since deserted the pulpit for the committee room. As long as the Methodist rank and file gives this board its present role it is folly for the Methodist rank and file to believe that it has not put its church in politics.

How to Keep Well.

By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitation, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed, Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

ON MEDICINE ABSORBED BY THE SKIN.

THE number of letters received by this column in which the writers inquire whether any medicine or medicine of any sort is or can be absorbed by the skin has two meanings. The first is a great many people read what is written by Brother Brady, I wonder if my friend, Dr. Evans, would permit us to add make oil to the list?

The second is, the readers of health columns like to shop around, just as most of us do with doctors generally. Just before retiring bath the feet in hot, soapy water in which a tablespoonful of baking soda has been dissolved. Allow the feet to dry for at least fifteen minutes, then apply two coats of stearine of lard with a soft camel's hair brush, taking care not to get any lard on parts not affected. The feet are then to be wrapped in a bandage soaked in spirits of camphor. Let them remain this way all night. Go to bed. The next night the feet are to be washed with cold water and the feet are to be wrapped in a bandage soaked in spirits of camphor. Let them remain this way all night. Go to bed.

Since a certain amount of absorption takes place, physicians must guard against poisoning. Good illustrations of poisonings which have occasionally taken place are mercurial poisoning, due to the rubbing in of too much mercurial ointment; carbolic poisoning, due to the over-use of carbolic lotions, and wood alcohol poisoning, due to the use of liniments in which this poison is an ingredient. He tells us that, contrary to the usual rule with skin applications, car-

NAMES ON THE MAIL BOX.
Chicago, Feb. 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—We have three names on the mail box for our apartment and had a request from the owner this week that only one name appear on the box. Do we have to remove the other two names, or should the names of all occupants be on the mail box?

You are entitled to make reasonable use of the mail box facilities. Ordinarily we would consider the use which you describe reasonable, to keep them there in as involved which would make it unreasonable. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

R. H. L.: You told us Miss Belmore's voice is golden—though you did not say it has the same sweet tremulous quality that a young and eager Juliet must have had long ago—but why did you leave us unprepared for the electric shock of Denial King?

What can I say about it? For twenty and one except when all things are but fading memories, I think I shall still be able to recall quite clearly that ardent young voice of his, speaking for all too short a time what must now forever seem the most beautiful thing in the world—the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." For twenty and one half minutes a world was privileged to hear such utter beauty that it brought tears to the eyes and left one quite silent, since words are meager things, wholly inadequate except for smaller moments.

HOW TO TREAT CHILBLAINS.

W. S. writes: My feet have been frost-bitten. The feet are cold and wet. I have chilblains. What can I do?

Here is what "R. H. L." says about it: The following remedy has been used for many years. It is effective in even the most obstinate cases where other remedies have failed.

Just before retiring bath the feet in hot, soapy water in which a tablespoonful of baking soda has been dissolved. Allow the feet to dry for at least fifteen minutes, then apply two coats of stearine of lard with a soft camel's hair brush, taking care not to get any lard on parts not affected. The feet are then to be wrapped in a bandage soaked in spirits of camphor. Let them remain this way all night. Go to bed.

Alternate night after night in this manner and in a short time all trace of soreness and itching will be gone. Should the skin have a tendency to crack or blister apply camphorated oil, vasoline, or any medicated grease or oil. If convenient apply grease to the feet at night. Do not use arnica or leave on during the day.

Avoid extremes of heat and cold; wear warm stockings; avoid getting the feet wet. Do not use alcohol. Rub the feet with a soft cloth. Avoid extremes of heat and cold; wear warm stockings; avoid getting the feet wet. Do not use alcohol. Rub the feet with a soft cloth.

[In Travaso, Rome.]

SEEKS TO LINK LEOPOLD WITH KLEIN'S MURDER

Rehn Tests Doomed Men's Story of Bribe Plot.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.
Joliet, Ill., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—“Just a bit of corroboration” and Nathan F. Leopold Jr. will be charged with his second murder, State's Attorney Hjalmar Rehn of this county said today.

The six convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary a year ago after killing Deputy Warden Peter N. Kiplin have made statements that Leopold was their leader and that he originated and worked out the plot. They were captured, tried, and sentenced to death for their deed and were to have been hanged today. But on Wednesday they were given a stay and it was then they accused Leopold.

“It has become my duty to question these convicts because of their statements,” State's Attorney Rehn said. “I will do so and if I can obtain any corroboration at all I will ask the death penalty for Leopold.”

Prison officials as well as the county authorities suspect Leopold was the originator of the jail break. They believe none of the six, nor the six together, had brains enough to plan and carry out the escape plot, but that Leopold furnished both brains and money. The unconfirmed story, as they have it now, is this:

Leopold, who is a millionaire's son and who, along with Richard Loeb, was sentenced to life imprisonment and an additional sentence of 99 years for the murder of Robert Franks, is said to have cleared the way to freedom by money given to guards. He couldn't go out alone, as that would attract attention, and the danger of being found out was too great for the men he bribed. But he could go out with a group of convicts, ostensibly a “work party.”

Easily Passed the Gate.

“We'll not be stopped at the gate,” the convicts now say Leopold told them, and the evidence at their trial was that they were not stopped. They had forced a captain of the guards to accompany them.

“Leopold stole some sugar and had it in his cell on a day he knew the cell would be searched,” the convicts say.

“He wanted to be sent to the military confinement building, as it was there we were to get the guard captain to escort us out.”

Killing of Klein Incidental.

The killing of Klein was not a part of the plan, but was committed because of the convicts' efforts to get Leopold out of his cell—and they couldn't find the key, the authorities have been told. They went without him—and after Leopold had written a farewell message on the wall to his father.

“It is doubtful if we could convict Leopold on the testimony of his accomplices alone,” Prosecutor Rehn said. “But with substantial corroboration it may be different.”

INDIANA EXIT IN LAKE WATER ROW UP TO GOVERNOR

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Determination of whether Indiana will withdraw from the suit against the Chicago sanitary district to prevent the withdrawal of water from Lake Michigan, under the terms of a suit project, now rests with Governor Jackson. The house of representatives without a record vote today concurred in a senate resolution favoring Indiana's withdrawal from the suit instituted by Wisconsin hostile to Chicago. The house endorsed the Illinois drainage canal project.

SWERVES AUTO TO MISS BOY; IS HIMSELF KILLED

In a vain effort to avoid striking a 9-year-old boy, Daniel A. Sheahan, 41 years old, 528 Forest avenue, River Forest, drove his automobile into a bridge girder yesterday, and was fatally injured. Two other deaths during the day raised the year's motor toll in Cook county to 84.

According to police, Sheahan was driving over the bridge which spans the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway tracks at Central avenue. When he reached the center of the bridge Chester Ziaja, 9 years old, 2486 North Mason avenue, ran in front of the car. Sheahan swerved his car, striking a bridge girder.

Boy's Skull Is Fractured.

The boy was thrown to the pavement and received a fractured skull. Sheahan, who was vice president of the Railway Employees' Benefit association, was internally injured and died a few hours later.

Frank Atwell, 61 years old, 6612 Evans avenue, died of injuries he received when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Ewing avenue at 93d street. Albert Walther, 10229 Avenue N, driver of the car, was not held. He said Atwell dodged from the path of another automobile and ran in front of his car.

Woman Dies of Injuries.

Mrs. Mary Jakubowski, 34 years old, 841 East 89th place, injured Feb. 6 when the automobile in which she and her husband was wrecked in a collision with a street car at University avenue and 93d street, died last night at the Burnside hospital.

Mrs. Thomas Ha Devereaux, 28 Bellevue place, suffered bruises on her head and body last night when she was knocked down by a west bound automobile while she was crossing Division street at Dearborn. M. L. Pearson, 1119 Cleveland avenue, driver of the car, stopped and assisting Mrs. Devereaux into his car took her home.

Charles A. Elbert, 55 years old, 1188 Woodlawn avenue, is in the Chicago hospital as a result of having been overcome by carbon monoxide gas. He was overcome while working on his car in the garage in the rear of his home. Neighbors found him unconscious and summoned Hyde Park police, who revived him with a pulmotor. He is expected to recover.

BOY THROWN FROM AUTO.

Clifford Butler, 15 years old, who left his home at 4143 North Maplewood avenue Tuesday with the intention of riding a bicycle to San Francisco, got as far as Aurora. The police there held him until his parents arrived.

WATSON LETTER INTRODUCED IN FORD STOCK CASE

Appellants Seek to Show Bias of Mellon.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Counsel for the former minority stockholders in the Ford Motor company closed their case before the board of tax appeals today with the introduction of secret treasury files revealing that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in 1922 was in possession of most of the facts which in 1925 caused him suddenly to levy an additional tax of $31,000,000.

These files which had been obtained by a ruse from the government lifted the curtain on transactions within the treasury which led up to the final levy of the "jeopardy tax" against Senator James Couzens (Rep., Mich.) and the eight other minority stockholders.

They disclosed that a full and complete investigation had been made in 1922 of the valuation of the Ford Motor company stock by Commissioner Daniel C. Roper and that his judgment had been approved and the matter "finally closed."

Mr. Roper set the valuation at $9,483.34 as of March 1, 1913, and the taxpayers paid $22,000,000 in taxes on this basis. In March, 1925, Mr. Mellon suddenly demanded an additional tax of $31,000,000 on the ground that the Roper valuation was $6,000 per share too high.

Given Tip by Senator Watson.
Senator James E. Watson (Rep., Ind.), one of the Republican leaders who fought for the seating of Truman H. Newberry in 1922, when his right to a seat was questioned because of large campaign expenses, was revealed today as the man who first called the attention of the treasury to an alleged overvaluation of the Ford Motor stock by Commissioner Roper.

On Feb. 11, 1922, while the Newberry fight was still at its height, Senator Watson submitted a letter and memorandum to the secretary of the treasury, in which he called attention to the "subject of taxation as it related to Henry Ford" and urged an investigation of the sale of the Ford Motor stock in 1913 to the Ford family.

Documents read into the record by Arthur J. Lacey, counsel for Senator Couzens, disclosed that the Watson memorandum questioning the Roper valuation contained the chief points of the document which was the basis for the assessment of the additional taxes in March, 1925.

Treasury officials, in defending the 1925 action, which was taken just when the Couzens senatorial committee had directed charges against Secretary Mellon's administration of the internal revenue bureau, had represented that the information had just reached them for the first time and that as the five year statute of limitations period was about to expire it was necessary to act quickly.

Counsel for appellants introduced the 1922 memorandum by Mr. Watson, not only to prove that the Roper valuation had been thoroughly investigated and approved three years previously but also to support their implied contention that other motives rather than a desire to collect all the tax due the government caused the additional assessment to be made in 1925.

Commissioner Blair Called.
The Watson letter was addressed to David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue.

Mr. Blair admitted receiving the letter and memorandum from Senator Watson, but denied that he had actually levied the additional tax, saying that had been done by his first assistant, Charles R. Nash. This Mr. Nash later admitted.

Mr. Blair said he delivered the letter in person to Senator Couzens, but that the latter refused to sign it.

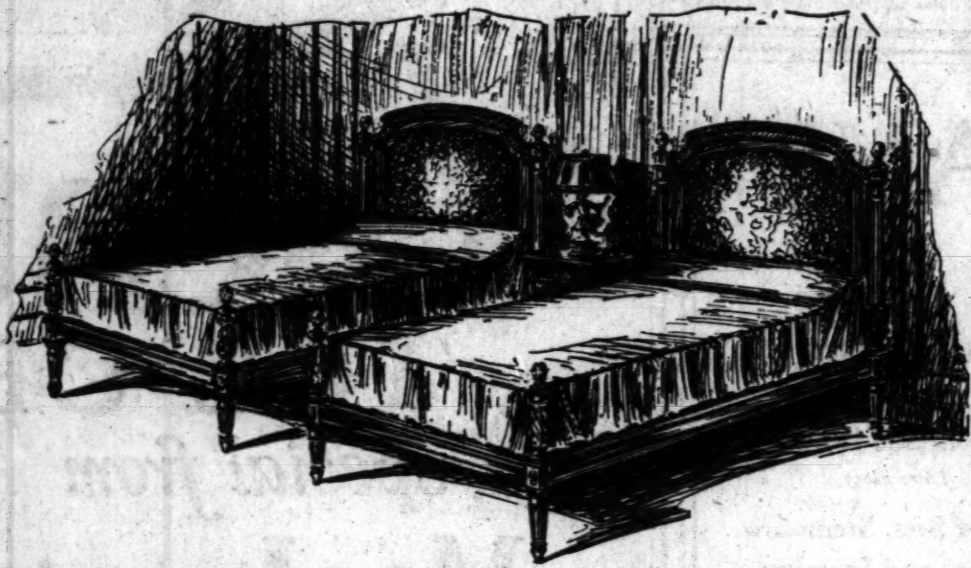

"Is that your usual method of delivering a notice to a taxpayer?" "No," Mr. Blair replied. "I thought it was a courtesy due a senator. I wasn't convinced in my own mind that there was an assessment due and I wanted to get him to sign a waiver. I said that if I found there was no tax due I would drop it, and if I found there was tax due I would be sure to give him a hearing."

Mr. Blair then testified that Couzens had said that if they wanted additional taxes, they had come to the wrong man; that he had a contract with Mr. Ford providing that if any additional taxes were exacted by the government, Mr. Ford would pay them. That such a contract existed was denied by counsel for Senator Couzens.

REJECTS SMITH'S PLEA FOR RIGHT TO RECEIVE OATH

Committee Will Resume
Hearing Wednesday.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—Speakers at the Senate hearing on the case of Frank L. Smith, Illinois senator designate, were arranged today by the Senate committee on private claims and elections.

The hearings will commence next Wednesday, provided that date is agreeable to Mr. Smith.

The committee rejected the proposal of the Smith counsel that a partial report be made to the Senate recommending that Mr. Smith be permitted to take the oath in advance of the consideration of the charges relative to his acceptance of campaign contributions from public utility interests.

Transcript of Evidence.
In arranging for further hearings the committee decided to commence by having a transcript of all testimony taken by the Reed senatorial committee affecting the Smith case read. It was estimated that this would require at least two days. The committee does not at present contemplate calling the same witnesses.

Whether the Smith counsel will choose to present any evidence in connection with the testimony before the Reed committee is doubtful.

C. J. Doyle, one of the Smith attorneys, said today that they stand on the contention that the election committee has no jurisdiction in the case in advance of the taking of the oath by the senator designate. In view of this contention and the further fact that no formal charges have been made, Mr. Doyle said there is no reason why the Smith forces should present evidence.

Will Return Next Week.
They have already presented legal arguments in support of their contention that the Senate has no right under the constitution to exclude Mr. Smith. Mr. Doyle and Attorney General Oscar Carleton of Illinois left this afternoon for Chicago for further consultation with Mr. Smith. They will return in time for next week's hearing.

The continued delays in the case make it more and more probable that Congress will adjourn without final action being taken in the Smith case. The session comes to an end three weeks from Friday.

Hospital Celebrates Opening of New $1,000,000 Building

A reception was held last night in the Jackson Park hospital, 75th street and Stony Island avenue, in celebration of the opening of the institution's new $1,000,000 building. The hospital has nine floors, making it the second tallest in the city, and is equipped to accommodate 263 patients. Among the speakers at the reception were Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundsen, Dr. Morris Fishbein, and Prof. J. M. P. Smith of the University of Chicago.

Woman Rescued in $50,000 Fire at Oak Park Landmark

Forty-five families were forced into the street last night when fire attacked the oldest apartment building in Oak Park, Pleasant street and Kenilworth avenue.

An aged invalid woman was carried to safety by firemen from her first floor apartment. For a time the fire threatened to destroy the entire building, but aid from the Chicago department prevented it. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

Why Have Gray Hair?

Don't think your hair need remain streaked with gray—or even very gray. For over ten years men and women whose hair was once blonde, auburn, brown or black have successfully used Kolor-Bak to restore color to their gray hair. Today they haven't the slightest visible trace of gray. Nor can you tell they ever used anything on their hair.

Kolor-Bak is a clean, colorless liquid that has restored youthful appearance to hundreds of thousands. As easy to apply as water, it requires no experimenting with samples of your hair.

Just ask your dealer for Kolor-Bak. The one bottle is for all hair, no matter what shade or color. Results often appear in a week. And with the disappearance of the gray hair, the tonic properties of Kolor-Bak make it splendid to use for dandruff and falling hair. Its tremendous success is clearly shown by the sale of nearly 3,000,000 bottles, which proves its superiority.

Dealers everywhere sell Kolor-Bak with guarantee to return your money if it does not bring desired results. No excuse now for any woman to look old, or any man to be considered too old for employment. Your druggist, or any store where toilet goods are sold, carries Kolor-Bak. Ask for it today.

PREDICT McNARY FARM BILL WILL WIN IN SENATE

Vote Today Is Expected to Be Close.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Passing of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill in the senate by a close vote is in prospect tomorrow.

Supporters of the measure claim that with assurance of support from at least four Democratic senators who voted in the negative last year its passage by a margin of one or two votes is certain. Three or four additional votes may be picked up if negotiations in progress with a group of senators from cotton states who desire a two year deferment of the application of the equalization fee to cotton are successful.

The managers of the bill have agreed to accept an amendment providing for insurance against price declines which was proposed by the cotton senators, but have balked on the proposition of deferring the equalization fee.

On Pending Amendments.

A limitation of debate went into effect in the senate today and all debate will end at 4 o'clock tomorrow, after which time final action will be taken on pending amendments and the bill.

Speeches in opposition to the bill were made today by Senators Moses [Rep., N. H.] and McLean [Rep., Conn.] and Wadsworth [Rep., N. Y.], while arguments in favor of it were advanced by Senators Watson [Rep., Ind.], Robinson [Rep., Ind.], Nye [Rep., N. D.], and Mayfield [Dem., Texas].

Senator Moses proposed amendments adding hay, apples, potatoes, and dairy products to the basic commodities listed under the bill. He credited Senator Shortridge [Rep., Cal.] with having proposed to add also artichokes, onions, and beans.

As for himself, he said he would gladly accept artichokes and beans, but believed that onions should "stand upon their own strength."

Log Rolling Methods.

"The purpose of this legislation is to take some money from some taxpayers and to give it to other taxpayers," said Senator Moses.

payers," said Senator Moses. "This bill is sectional in character, applies to a few commodities, and is being advanced by log rolling methods which should not be countenanced by the senate of the United States. And if we finally enact it we will have handed the farmers a lemon."

PEORIA CORPORAL STOWS AWAY ON CHINABOUND SHIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, Feb. 10.—I wanted to see action and would have hidden under a ton of spuds, but they beat me to it and locked me up," said Corporal Richard Harrington of Peoria, Ill., when he arrived here aboard the transport Chaumont, where he stowed away, desiring to get into action in China. Corporal Harrington was taken off the ship here and will be returned to the battleship New Mexico for court martial. Corporal Harrington, whose mother lives at 801 Spring street, Peoria, said he boarded the ship with a working party. The officers, though deprecating his disobedience to orders, admired his spirit.

STORY OF QUEZON OUSTING BY VETS CALLED FARCE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—A statement issued by V. C. Bunuan, director of the Washington office of the Philippine Commission of Independent Inquiry, in regard to the news dispatch from Manila published in the Chicago Tribune telling of the alleged expulsion of Manuel Quezon from the veterans' association:

"Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, although a veteran of the Philippine revolution, is not a member of the Association of Veterans of the Revolution, and therefore his alleged expulsion by the association, as reported in the news dispatches from Manila, was staged merely for effect, in favor of Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood and Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo."

"Senator Quezon, in a cablegram, says: 'My alleged expulsion from the veterans' association is a farce. While I am a veteran, I have never affiliated myself with the association. The so-called veterans' association is misleading. The majority of its present membership are not veterans and have never been veterans, but are politicians aspiring to get jobs from Gov. Gen. Wood through the influence of Gen. Aguinaldo.'"

NEED SNOOPERS TO ENFORCE DRY ACT, MELLON SAYS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Adequate enforcement of the prohibition law without the expenditure of money for under cover agents was declared impossible today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in an appeal to congress for authorization to use $500,000 for "spy" activities.

Mr. Mellon submitted a bill which would allow the use of federal funds for paying the expenses of under cover men. He took this action after an estimate of $500,000 for this type of work had been eliminated from the regular treasury appropriation bill on a point of order that would have put a stop to under cover work.

"The use of certain funds as advance money is absolutely essential to the successful enforcement of the prohibition and narcotic laws," Secretary Mellon said in submitting his proposed legislation.

He referred to a treasury report, recently forwarded to the senate, in which the statement was made that the government was "faced with numerous, bad and continuing conspiracies against the prohibition law."

To break up these conspiracies, Secretary Mellon said, it would be necessary to concentrate on the big organized illegal combines, and that to do it, it would be necessary for congress to provide adequate appropriations as recommended.

FOREIGN GROUP BUYS AN ISLAND NORTH OF MANILA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 10.—A Shanghai realty group composed of French, Chinese, and Russians agreed to purchase Fuga island, north of Luzon, for 350,000 pesos (about $175,000) and have already paid 50,000 pesos (about $25,000), with the balance to be paid in ninety days if Vincente Masigan, owner of Fuga island, can prove his title. This information came from J. J. Danon, the broker, who returned from Shanghai today. Mr. Danon previously had negotiated with a Japanese company, but the sale was called off at the eleventh hour through the intervention of the Japanese foreign office.

Last year the United States army surveyed the island with the intention of laying out an airplane landing field, but the work was halted, ostensibly because of lack of funds.

The Philippine island government opposes the sale of the island to foreigners and, if it can successfully challenge Señor Masigan's title, it may block this sale.

Fireman Rescue Girl, Boy Knocked Under Street Car

An 11 year old girl and her brother, who is only 5, were knocked down yesterday by a street car at 14th and Loomis streets. Part of the car passed over them and they were caught in the trucks, where they remained for more than twenty minutes. A fire company, summoned by the crew, jacked up the car and released them. The children, Ada Mae and Earl Howard, of 1238 West 14th street, were taken to the county hospital, where physicians said they probably would recover.

MERCHANTS JOIN IN TRIBUTE TO JOHN G. SHEDD

Present Memorial Book to Marshall Field & Co.

Testifying to their affection for him as a friend and his admiration for him as a fellow business man, eight state street merchants yesterday presented "An Appreciation of John G. Shedd" to Marshall Field & Co. Mr. Shedd died on Oct. 22, 1924.

The book, which is illuminated and prefaced with a cover portrait of Mr. Shedd, is signed by the following State street firms: Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Shedd Brothers, Boston Store, The Yahr, Maurice L. Rothschild, Henry C. Lytton & Sons, Charles A. Stevens & Bros., and Hillman's. It is a remarkable example of the bookbinder's art.

Shedd Praised as Leader.

"The merchants of State street, Chicago, whose signatures are hereto attached, unite," reads the tribute, "to express their appreciation of their beloved friend and fellow merchant, John G. Shedd, who for more than a score of years, as president and chairman of the board of directors of the issue of Marshall Field & Co., moved among them as a leader of conspicuous ability in all things pertaining to the progress of merchandising.

"Cherishing high ideals of character, integrity, responsibility, and human service, endowed with a rare gift for merchandising; gifted with keen perception, clear vision, and well balanced judgment; unswerving in his loyalty to sound principles and worthy business practices; appreciating all aspects of business, social life, and citizenship, he was ably qualified to render distinguished service through wise counsel and progressive leadership.

Highly Honored by Merchants.

"Among the merchants of State street, Chicago, and of the United States, as a man and a merchant, he was highly honored at home and abroad.

"To Marshall Field & Co. and their associates we offer this token of our esteem with the assurance that his memory and achievements will long endure."

The presentation of the book was made to James Simpson, president of Field's, by a committee headed by Charles A. Stevens of Charles A. Stevens & Bros. and John H. Wood of Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

GERMAN COURTS
FIND U. S. GIRLS
DIDN'T VAMP TARS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—The charms of the girls of Hollywood and San Francisco and their kindness to touring German tars was the object of a libel suit in the Berlin courts today. The admiral took action against two German poets who wrote a satire on the recent adventures of the tars aboard the cruiser Hamburg, in Hollywood.

The case was a sequel to the visit of the cruiser Hamburg, aboard which the sailors distributed beer to visitors in California until prohibition agents stopped the traffic. The poets, Erich Weimert and Karl Osmietzky, wrote and published a poem inspired by the old assertion that a "sailor has a wit in every port," and applied it to the experiences of the German sailors.

The counsel for the poets recalled the sailors' well-known fondness for "women and wine" when their ship was anchored, but the sailors were held up as models of constancy and sobriety, to the great satisfaction of jealous German wives and sweethearts.

POST WOMEN VOTERS' AGES; OMIT MEN'S, SO WAR'S DECLARED

Holden, Mass., Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Women voters of this town are going about with fire in their eyes. They have just discovered that in the printed list of voters posted on the bulletin board in the town hall the age of every woman voter is given. The ages of men voters are omitted.

The district tax supervisor ordered the list printed with the ages of both men and women. Who was responsible for the discrimination is what the women would like to know.

H. S. Girl Leaves Home to Hunt Work; Search On

Believing she was becoming a burden on her parents, Evelyn Wiekowski, 14 years old, 2215 South Whipple street, student at the Harrison Technical school, disappeared from her home yesterday.

Although Saunders said he had stood trial nine times for murder and had been exonerated of blame for the killing, most of which he said occurred while he was an officer, Sheriff Dancy of Oklahoma City said he had knowledge of only one killing of which he was accused.

To newspaper men, however, Saunders gave the names of three of the becoming involved with what he said was known as the Cummings gang.

He said he killed the leader, Jim Cummings; Richard King, a man named Yates, and a man whose name he did not know. He was acquitted of these.

Although inclined to believe his story of the killings, Oklahoma City officers were not convinced that Saunders had been exonerated of all the killings.

Saunders was connected with the Oklahoma Bankers' association for several years. He was described by Oklahoma City officers as a "stool pigeon."

TELLS POLICE HE HAS SLAIN 18 MEN BEGS PROTECTION

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Not boastful, but in a manner convincing to officers, W. M. Saunders, in jail here awaiting return to Oklahoma to face a charge of forgery, tonight declared that he had slain 18 men and said he had so many enemies in Oklahoma he "wouldn't live four hours" there without the protection of officers.

Although Saunders said he had stood trial nine times for murder and had been exonerated of blame for the killing, most of which he said occurred while he was an officer, Sheriff Dancy of Oklahoma City said he had knowledge of only one killing of which he was accused.

DAIRY FARMERS WIN A DELAY IN RETESTING ORDER

State officials were held responsible by executives of the Pure Milk association meeting here yesterday for the Illinois dairymen's predicament, due to neglect to retest herds producing milk for Chicago.

The dairy farmers' officials appealed to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, commissioner of health, and he agreed to extend his tuberculin retest order two weeks. He had announced on Tuesday that cows not retested within six months would be barred from producing milk for Chicago.

Director Stansard yesterday at Springfield said the retesting "is exactly the same today that it has been since the beginning of the area plan of testing in the state of Illinois." He explained that the direct supervision of the test "is in the hands of the county board of supervisors or of the T. B. committee of that board in each county."

JACOBS UNDER FIRE AT COUNTY BUDGET SESSION

Newby Leads the Attack; Defended by Cermak.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

J. L. Jacobs, the county clerk, was himself placed on the grill yesterday. Harry A. Newby, new county commissioner and new chairman of the board of finance committee, was the man who started to put Jacobs in the firing line. Jacobs has told of loafers and shirkers in the county service, even charging that some of the judges do not perform a fair day's work. Mr. Newby is a lawyer and doubts the propriety of criticizing the judiciary.

"Of course, we appreciate that you have done wonderful work," began Newby, as frequently does a judge in deciding against you. "But," said Newby, "I am going to tell you to your teeth. I am going to tell you very frankly."

Mr. Jacobs later told Mr. Newby to his face and when it was all over the information which Mr. Newby was going to put in Mr. Jacobs' teeth was that his "personal demeanor is offensive to county officials and the judges." "Your demeanor is absolutely unnecessary and it hurts the board," he added.

Must Often Talk Plainly.

"Ordinarily I am mild mannered," replied Jacobs, "but sometimes I am put in a position where I must talk plainly."

"He's got to call a spade a spade," broke in President Cermak. "The department heads come up blinding and bullying. They tell their employees they will keep them on the pay roll and boost their salaries. Some of them don't know what the hell is going on in their offices. They are never there. What Jacobs said about some employees a few days ago, to which there has been objection, was entirely too mild. He later went to certain offices to count the employees at work. There were not as many there as Jacobs had told you there were. Yet the department head had had more than half a day to get his employees in his office. I surmise he could not locate them and get them in. I have stood behind Jacobs and am going to stand there."

Claims Saving of $375,000.

Previously Mr. Newby wanted to know what Jacobs had done, what he intended to do, and how. He had heard the story that Jacobs had cut off many county jobs, but had placed 79 of his own employees on the county pay roll.

"That is just referred to as my pay roll," smiled Jacobs at Newby. "The net saving in real money last year was $375,000. Formerly the board of assessors, board of review, county clerk, and county treasurer did everything by hand. Now it is done by machines. The extra and overtime pay roll of these four offices in 1922 was $965,000. Last year it was $580,000—a saving of more than $440,000. Deeds are now copied by photography in the recorder's office, saving another large sum. Clerks of the courts, with one exception, use photography now and there is more saving. In four years the saving has been $3,435,000 net."

Employees Run New Machines.

The seventy-nine employees are operators of the county machines. The entire cost of the machines last year was $179,000 and the compensation paid my firm was $27,000. Those are both items of expense to the county, but after paying them and other expenses the net saving to the county was $875,000 last year. But we have done little in comparison with what should be done."

"What is your goal?" asked Commissioner Oscar W. Schmidt, a new man.

"Instead of a saving of $875,000 a year it should be $2,000,000," replied Jacobs. "That is feasible and practicable."

The meeting was held in the office of the Bridewell, where the commissioners went yesterday morning to turn the first spadeful of ground for the new jail and Criminal court building, costing an estimated $7,300,000. This is to be located on a site of eleven acres adjoining the present House of Correction.

Look at My Hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper.

Countless women ask me how I developed such a marvelous head of hair. It is thick, silky, lustrous. Every year it becomes more luxuriant. I have never had falling hair or dandruff and never a touch of gray.

I owe that hair to the genius of French experts. They have given me from time to time the best hair helps discovered. In late years I've combined them. No one I offer them all to you, on every toilet counter, under the name of Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth.

My Hair Youth is concentrated. I apply it with an eyedropper directly to the scalp. There it instantly combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates the scalp. My glorious hair is the simple result of that daily application. For years and years it has brought like results to my beautiful friends on the stage.

Every girl and woman owes herself a knowledge of Hair Youth. If you watch its effects for a day or two you will never go without it. And it may add to you or keep for you a priceless beauty item.

The coupon will bring a sample bottle, an eyedropper and my Beauty Book. Mail it to me for your hair's sake. Clip it now.

NICHOLS, CARRIED TO COURT, SEEKS TO DODGE QUIZ

Decide Today if He Gives Testimony.

Charles M. Nichols, former real estate expert and one of the defendants in Tim Tammany's suit to recover expert fees, was carried into Judge Hugo M. Friend's court yesterday on a stretcher. There ensued a strenuous fight as to whether Nichols should be allowed to testify.

Attorney Frederick A. Bangs, representing Nichols, declared that the witness would die if subjected to an examination. He immediately applied for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Emanuel Heller in the Criminal court. While Nichols lay on his stretcher in Judge Friend's court, the habeas corpus hearing was conducted before Judge Heller. The latter finally announced that he would make a decision at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Court in Home a Failure.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, representing Tim Tammany, resisted the habeas corpus writ. He asserted that physicians appointed by the court had examined Nichols and declared that it would be safe for the expert to be examined. It was revealed that Judge Friend and the lawyers had attempted to hold court in Nichols' own home, but had been ousted by Nichols' wife. "This man received $80,000 for less than six months' work as an expert," declared Attorney Kirkland. "It is imperative that we hear his story in connection with our charges that the city of Chicago was cheated of nearly two million dollars by so-called real estate experts."

Question of Jurisdiction.

Judge Heller declared that the only question involved was one of jurisdiction. He reserved his decision and allowed Nichols to be taken home after he had furnished a $2,500 bond.

Nichols is the last witness to be called by Tim Tammany in its suit. The case has been on trial for nearly a year.

SCHOOL OFFICIAL SAYS HE HEARS TOO MUCH JAZZ

As an illustration of what the public schools are up against when they try to train in character making, Charles D. Lowry, assistant superintendent, said he recently turned the dial of his radio thirteen times and heard nine jazz selections, one good orchestra, one excellent and one moderate bass solo.

Mr. Lowry was one of two speakers at a dinner of the International Council of Religious Education last evening at the Hamilton club. The other speaker was Hugh S. Magill, general secretary of the international council, whose subject was "Cooperation Between Church and State."

"The church and state have separate functions, but unity of interest," Mr. Magill said. "Free government cannot survive unless we have religious training. The state must look to the church to raise up a citizenship to save the state. The churches must not do poor work in training and think they can get away with it on sanctimonious grounds. There must be cooperation between the home, the church and the state, for they all have the same purpose, training in character."

FALLING, SHOUTS WARNING TO BOY BELOW, MAY DIE

Oral Carter, 25, was washing windows yesterday afternoon at the second story at 543 1/2 Hyde Park boulevard when he lost his balance. As he started to fall he saw a boy standing below.

"Look out, boy!" he cried. Then he toppled.

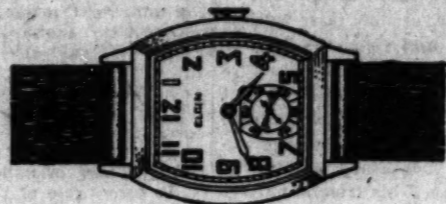

He plunged head first to the ground. His right knee struck the iron picket of a fence and bent it, but his head crashed against the sidewalk, fracturing his skull.

Francis Smith, 15 years old, 5455 Harper avenue, who had leaped back at Carter's startled warning, attracted the attention of nearby residents, who notified the police. The injured man, who lives at 1515 East 53d street, was taken to the Illinois Central hospital, where it was said his condition was critical.

HELD AS GRIEF ATTACKERS.

Charged with luring a young woman to a flat at 4870 Sheridan road and attacking her, Frank Morgan, 35, of the Hotel La Salle, and George Burns, 31, of 1437 Leased avenue, were held to the grand jury. Bonds were fixed at $2,000.

Follow These Simple Rules:

- Every day until further notice The Chicago Tribune will print a cartoon sketch and a bit of conversation, inviting the public to submit a "Snappy Cum-Bax" to the printed bit of conversation. Ask yourself the question if this remark were addressed to you, what sort of a "Snappy Cum-Bax" would you make? Then send in your answer in 10 words or less.
- $50.00 will be paid by The Tribune each day as follows, for the best answers received:
1st Prize..... $25.00
2nd Prize..... 10.00
3rd, 4th and 5th Prizes, $5 each, 15.00
- This contest is open to all—men, women, boys and girls. Only employees of The Tribune and their families are barred.
- You pay nothing. Just amuse yourself and prove your skill.
- Do NOT hold your answers to "Snappy Cum-Bax"—send them in immediately. All answers must be in The Tribune office by midnight, five days following the publication of the remark. Winners will be announced exactly one week after the publication of the "Snappy Cum-Bax" to which they supply an answer. For example: Answers to today's "Snappy Cum-Bax" must be in The Tribune office five days from today, and the winners will be announced exactly one week from today.
- You need not purchase The Tribune to compete. You may write your answer on any piece of paper. The Tribune may be examined without cost at its offices or at Public Libraries.
- Entrants may submit as many "Snappy Cum-Bax" as they wish. Originality will count. Address all entries to "Cum-Bax," The Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 1539, Chicago, Ill.
- The judges will be appointed by The Tribune and their decisions will be binding and final. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid to each tying contestant.

Another "SNAPPY CUM-BAX" will appear in Tomorrow's Tribune

LINK DAUGHERTY TO KING, WHO GOT $391,000 BONDS

New York, Feb. 10. (Special.)—

Richard Merton, German industrialist and the government's star witness against Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, testified today before Judge Knox and a jury in federal court that on Oct. 1, 1921, he handed $391,000 in Liberty and Victory bonds to the late John T. King.

The government during the previous days of the trial attempted through witnesses to trace blocks of these bonds to Daugherty and Miller, who are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of their proper services.

Merton said he and King went to the brokerage office of Goldman, Sachs & Co. in this city on Oct. 1. The visit previously had been described by other witnesses. Merton told of asking for $391,000 of $500,000 worth of bonds and giving the larger package to King. He got no receipt, he said.

"Why did you give him the bonds?" Mr. Buckner asked.

"He was to receive as contingent fee for having my claim passed, 5 per cent of the value of the claim if the money was paid within two and one-half months," Merton answered.

The claim he referred to was a claim of the Societe Sulus pour Valeurs de Metaux, represented by Merton, to $7,000,000 worth of stock in the American Metal company, which had been seized by the United States during the war and sold.

In showing the close relationship between Daugherty and King the government produced two new witnesses, who did not testify at the first trial of Daugherty and Miller last fall, when the jury disagreed.

The first of these was Elizabeth Miller, a telephone operator in the state department in Washington. From 1919 to 1925 she sat at a switchboard in the department of justice. She said that during the first six months after the Harding administration took office, Daugherty often called King and King often called Daugherty from New York or Connecticut.

LEGION IS READY TO OPEN COUNTY DRIVE TOMORROW

American Legion week, which begins tomorrow by proclamation of Gov. Small, will be observed by Cook county Legionnaires with a drive for membership.

Ferre C. Watkins, commander of the state department of the Legion, declared that Illinois now has a total of 40,000 members, an increase of 10,000 over last year. In the new drive, Mr. Watkins said, assistance would be given by pastors of sixty churches in the county. All the ministers are to preach about the Legion on Sunday.

Booths, in charge of members of the women's auxiliary, will be established in department stores and railroad stations to receive applications for membership.

Chaplin Loses New Effort to Pry Off Receivership

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10. (Special.)—Judge Walton Wood in County court today rejected the plea of Charlie Chaplin's lawyers, to lift the receivership from Chaplin's property. It was the second time in ten days that Judge Wood upheld the receivership brought by Mrs. Chaplin on the allegation that Chaplin possesses $16,000,000 in community and personal property, and that this property was being removed from California.

Attorneys for Mrs. Chaplin tomorrow will apply to Superior court for a writ giving her use of the vacant Chaplin mansion.

Jury Convicts 2, Frees 3, Disagrees on 1 in Rum Case

After being out all night a jury in the federal court reported yesterday morning that its members were unable to agree in the case of Dr. Logan B. Huff, Aurora veterinarian charged with violating the internal revenue laws. Testimony showed that a distillery of which he was the ostensible owner was being conducted under the guise of a hog killing plant near Aurora. Dr. Huff maintained that he had sold the place. George Hays and William Brown, arrested in the plant, were found guilty and three other men were acquitted. The government elected to try the case under the revenue laws rather than the Volstead act.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

DR. MASON ASKS FRATERNITIES TO STRESS LEARNING

Blames Them for Laxity in Scholarship.

President Max Mason of the University of Chicago, advocating the sort of scholarship which is the "participation of the individual in the great experience of the human race," declared last night that fraternities are in part responsible for college men failing to enjoy the "adventure and drama of education."

Addressing the Interfraternity Chicago association at the Palmer house, Dr. Mason exhorted 900 men to carry back to the undergraduates the idea that what they do with their heads makes all the difference in the world.

Alumni Holds Back Students. By stressing the seeming importance of the undergraduates of merely getting by in order that he may be loyal to his fraternity by remaining in college, Dr. Mason pointed out that alumni of fraternities are preventing college students from ever exceeding a pedestrian pace in the realm of knowledge.

"The modern university is a research institution. Perhaps eighty per cent of what comes out of it is useless and could be eliminated. But the other twenty per cent is the safeguard of civilization, making life richer, industries more firm and providing for the future," Dr. Mason gave as his conception of the function of the university.

The fraternities, Dr. Mason pointed out, breed students who are facile in the classroom and are ready in emergencies. This sort of thinking is the vestige of American pioneer traits, the attributes of the rough and ready fellow, he said. "It is found in the fellow who comes to class with a hangover but gets by nevertheless."

No Substitute for Scholarship. Dr. Mason declared that this sort of facility is not enduring and is not a substitute for real scholarship, which is not pedantry, recitation, marks, or classroom, but is the "curiosity for the discovery of the facts of life and science which can't be kept down."

"If a student should buy a book in a course which he is not taking and should go back to his fraternity room, read it and think about it, he would be judged a queer fellow," Dr. Mason said. "And he probably would be," he added. "Scholarship today seems to be an affair for the shutouts and queer fellows."

Fraternity men with their social advantages and intellectual capability should form the nucleus of the group of creative personalities gathering behind their youth, curiosity, and intelligence."

John B. Hawley, football coach at Dartmouth, presented the case for football in answer to those who cry "over-emphasis." Richard Henry Little, conductor of the "Line" in The Tribune, was toastmaster.

SUICIDE BY GAS, IS VERDICT. A coroner's jury yesterday decided that Alexander Skarberg, 35 years old, had committed suicide by inhaling gas in his home at 1878 1/2 Archer avenue. The body was found Wednesday night.

TRIBUTE PAID TO CHARLES DEERING AT BURIAL RITES

Leaders and Employees Attend Services.

(Picture on back page.) Funeral services for Charles Deering, former head of the International Harvester company, who died Saturday at the age of 75 on his estate at Miami, Fla., were held yesterday afternoon in the chapel at Graceland cemetery, with the Rev. Duncan H. Browne, rector of St. James Episcopal church, officiating.

In a casket blanketed with violets the body was removed from the Deering family's private car yesterday morning upon its arrival from Florida and was taken to the chapel, where it was placed in a flower filled niche. Nearby stood a mammoth wheel fashioned of lavender and pink sweet peas, with an arc of the wheel broken. The symbol was from the employees of the Deering works.

There were many employees, old time ones, too, who attended the services and later accompanied the body to the grave.

Favorite Hymns Sung. The funeral service was simple. A quartet sang, a capella, three of Mr. Deering's favorite hymns: "Nearer My God to Thee," "Crossing the Bar," and "Lead Kindly Light." Dr. Browne read the lesson, said the 23d psalm and gave the burial service.

Honorary pallbearers were Harold McCormick, Watson F. Blair, P. R. Shumway, Clive Runnels, E. W. Cramer, Daniel R. Burnham, Joseph Leiter, A. E. McKinstry, Cyrus H. McCormick, B. M. Winston and Dr. Walter Dill Scott, all of Chicago, and George F. Steele of New York. The out of town honorary pallbearers, unable to be present for the services included: Finley P. Dunne, E. H. Gary, Joseph W. Eliason, C. B. Macdonald and Garl Melchers, all of New York; Admiral W. W. Kimball and Admiral Reginald Nicholson, both of Washington, D. C.; Senator Fred M. Hudson of Miami and William G. McCormick of Baltimore.

Family Brings Body Here. Members of the family who accompanied the body here from Florida included the widow, Mrs. Marion Deering; the two daughters, Mrs. Richard E. Danielson and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick; Richard Howe, a brother-in-law, and Chauncey McCormick, Roger Deering, a son, arrived later in the day from El Paso, Tex.

A few hours before the funeral Dr. Scott, president of Northwestern university, paying tribute to his former fellow townsman of Evanston, said: "Born to wealth, stepping into a great position in the business world, we might expect a man domineering, blinded to intangible values or beset with an outlook determined by position and riches. But against this hardening there stood his gentleness of nature and his innate sense of value. Those who knew Charles Deering in those last years knew him as a sincere gentleman for whom the greatest values lay in those human joys with which he surrounded himself: his books, his birds, his gardens, his pictures and his friends."

PRELIMINARY BURIAL OFFICIAL. Raymond Krueger, 480 York avenue, Blue Island, struck and killed yesterday by a freight car in the yards of the Belt Line railroad at 144th and Halsted streets, Riverdale. He was assistant general yardmaster there.

HARRY SCULL, BROKER, DIES AT AGE OF 82

Harry Scull, 82 years old, a member of the Chicago board of trade for 49 years, died yesterday morning in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, after an illness of several weeks. Funeral arrangements will be completed today and it is probable interment will be at Wheaton, Ill., the residence of Mr. Scull prior to his moving to Evanston.

Eight years ago Mr. Scull was in a railroad accident at Lombard and as a result his left foot was amputated. Before the accident, he made it an almost daily practice to walk from the loop to his home in Evanston. He was called "Harry" by two generations of board of trade men and his defense of pedestrianism won him the title on the open board of the "walking champion."

Mr. Scull was born at Bristol, England, in 1845 and came to Chicago in 1873. In 1876 he was married to Miss Geoghegan of Dublin, Ireland. His first employer in Chicago was Murray Nelson, and he later was with W. P. McLaren & Co. Two years later, when that firm went out of business, Mr. Scull became connected with Dwight & Gillett.

Mr. Scull wore a monocle one day, and, commenting on the event, said: "I cannot think that any gentleman's equipment—I mean any English gentleman's—is complete without a monocle. In eminently correct British society a man would be lonesome and at sea without a single eyeglass. It is considered an aristocratic defeat."

Mr. Scull is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. B. J. Fitzgerald, of Manhattan Beach, Cal.

RYAN, FATHER OF OLD CLAIRVOYANT SWINDLE, IS DEAD

Chicago Police Jailed by His Expose in 1915.

Frank S. Ryan, head of the notorious Chicago clairvoyant trust, whose specialty was the swindling of wealthy women out of thousands of dollars, and whose exposure of the Chicago detective bureau in 1915 cost former Chief of Detectives John J. Halpin a term in prison, died on Wednesday at his home at Syracuse, N. Y., it was revealed yesterday.

Ryan was 43 years old. He succumbed to his old enemy, tuberculosis, from which he had suffered for many years. But to the last, it was said, Ryan was active in his old time clairvoyant business. For the last few years he had operated in Pacific coast cities. Three weeks ago, apparently realizing that he had but a brief time to live, he slipped unnoticed into Syracuse, his birthplace, to die.

Found out in his swindling operations in Chicago in 1914, Ryan made a detailed confession to former State's Attorney Macfarlane Hoyne. He said he had distributed $400 monthly among Halpin and several subordinates at the detective bureau in return for protection.

At the time of Ryan's confession in 1914 he declared that he had made $3,000 to $4,000 a month from gullible clients who believed he could see into the future.

Former School Attorney Files Bankruptcy Petition

A voluntary bankruptcy petition was filed yesterday on behalf of Charles Carroll Roe, 444 Oakwood boulevard, who was assistant to the attorney for the board of education during the Thompson administration. According to the petition filed in the federal district court by Attorney John A. Hutchings, Roe's liabilities amount to $48,183, while his assets are given as $100.

ARREST FOUR N. U. STUDENTS; STEAL AS FRAT PRANK

Four Northwestern university students, pledges of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, were arrested yesterday by the Evanston police when they were found in an automobile with a lamp stolen from the Orrington hotel and three loving cups taken from the fraternity chapter house at the University of Chicago.

After spending several hours in jail they were released at the request of the university authorities. The four said they were sent out to get the lamp and cups as an initiation stunt. It was indicated that the university would cut down on the privileges of the fraternity as a punishment.

Daniel Briscoe, recently of Knoxville, Tenn., is 18, six feet three inches tall, and weighs 260 pounds. But to his parents Daniel is just a helpless boy. They wired the police here that they were worried about him and requested that he be looked up at the New Bismarck hotel.

TWO SEIZED FOR CON GAME IN AUTO FINANCING

Frank J. Vicha, owner of the Economy Auto Sales, 209 Roosevelt road, Oak Park, and Sam Posner, 5220 Altgeld street, manager were taken into custody yesterday on the orders of Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller after complaint had been made to him by Attorney Francis Healy, representing the General Motors Acceptance corporation. They will be arraigned in the Chicago avenue court this morning on charges of operating a confidence game.

According to the charges the two have swindled automobile buyers and finance corporations out of close to $75,000 by mortgaging automobiles in several finance companies, even where a customer has paid cash.

Judge Delays Decision in Chrysler Separation Suit

Superior Judge Harry Lewis yesterday deferred for a day his decision on the complicated domestic tangle of Mrs. Eva Chrysler, 23 years old, and her 53 year old husband, George Chrysler, wealthy contractor, both of whom are seeking a separation.

Juror Ill at Sight of Scars, New Panel; Defendant Free

William J. Stohell, 1224 Highland avenue, Berwyn, a juror in Judge Harry B. Miller's court, became ill yesterday when he was called, with other jurors, to examine scars on Juan Vistinaz, defendant in a murder case. It was necessary to discharge the jury and impanel another. The trial ended in the acquittal of the defendant. Vistinaz was charged with the murder of Emanuel Reyes. He pleaded self-defense.

Girl, Two Women Identify Colored Youth as Assailant

Oliver Dixon, a colored youth of 19 who has confessed since his apprehension by the Woodlawn avenue police to committing numerous attacks and robberies, had his admissions substantiated by three women Wednesday. Lena Laboody, a 12 year old colored girl, along with Mrs. Allie Evans, 4935 Indiana avenue, and Miss Ada Bolton, 4945 Forrestville avenue, signed complaints against Dixon after identifying him as their assailants on separate occasions.

Grows New Hair on Thin Places

Costs you nothing if it fails

Your own dealer supplies guarantee in writing

New method revives dormant hair roots

HERE is new hair underwritten guarantee; falling hair completely stopped under guarantee. You are asked to take nobody's promise. You pay nothing if the Van Ess method fails. It is fully set to try it. It does what no other method does or has ever done: Massages powerful root-rejuvenating and germ-combating elements directly into the follicles (roots) of the hair. It is protected under U. S. patent.

It cultivates a totally new growth of hair—lustrous, wonderful hair with the sheen of youth actually grows where now thinning—or you pay nothing. You just rub it on your head morning or evening, for scarcely a minute.

In last two years, it has proved 70% effective, according to record, in some 200,000 cases of falling hair, semi-baldness and even total baldness. That means success followed in the great majority of cases. Consider what this means.

Why then go on feeling regretful with old-time lotions? This method, proven the hair roots people used to believe were beyond recall are revivable. Go to any drug store. Get the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage.

Guarantee to grow new hair in 90 days, to stop falling hair completely, supplied by the dealer with full treatment. Costs the same as ordinary hair restorer.

Mother! Now You Know How To Help Your Puny, Weak Child

It's Your Duty to Aid Him to Grow Strong, Active and Sound in Body and Mind.

That little boy or girl of yours—that isn't strong—has no appetite—lacks vigor and is perhaps backward, listless and timid.

What are you going to do with him?

Have you ever heard of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated and as easy for ailing children to take as candy?

Every druggist in America sells them—50 tablets, 50 cents—and the supremely good combination of up-building agents surely does help the sickly, run down, puny, frail little ones.

No need to give him any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—McCoy's Tablets, rich in vitamins, are made to take the place of that god-awful smelling, stomach upsetting medicine, and they surely do.

Try them as directed for 30 days, mother, and if at the end of that time you are not delighted with the improvement in your dear little one, get your money back.

You can get them at your druggist and remember, too, they are fine for thin, run down, underweight men and women who need more flesh, strength, vigor and vitality. Demand McCoy's—the original and genuine.

They imitated the desk set—but they couldn't imitate its guarantee

Significant is the mighty tribute that has been paid to the Sheaffer desk set. A new idea in writing equipment, it quickly received that highest flattery—imitation. But its beauty and its dependability never have been imitated. The pens are held secure in scientifically designed sockets that keep them ever ready to write. And because they are Lifetime* pens, especially designed for desk set use, they are unconditionally guaranteed. If they fail to meet the most exacting pen demands, the maker agrees to keep them in satisfactory condition, without cost to the owner. That's a broad guarantee—that never has been imitated.

Prices $10 to $35, complete with Lifetime pens

HUMOR CARTOONS FEATURES

in the wonderful new

Metropolitan Section

Now part of The Sunday Tribune

FOR CHICAGO AND SUBURBS
(Excluding the Loop)

An entirely new section has been added to The Sunday Tribune for city and suburban circulation. Note these unusual features:

SAM 'N' HENRY—The Radio Classic—Listeners everywhere know this delightful pair. These two boys from Birmingham, encountering for the first time life in a great city, stumble into a thousand kinds of trouble. Radio listeners know Liza, Sam's southern sweetheart; the fraternal order of the Jewels of the Crown, and its leader, the most Precious Diamond; Grampaw, the horse that won't stand up; and the other characters. The new feature will cover a half page in the Metropolitan Section—for the first time in any newspaper.

GROSS EXAGGERATIONS—Milt Gross, author of "Nize Baby," is writing another series of stories in the dialect that made "Nize Baby" a best seller. Every Sunday in the Metropolitan Section.

SNOWSHOE AL—"Hot Pages from My Diary" by this popular contributor to "A Line o' Type or Two."

DUKE BAKRAK—Another Line contributor recites his domestic adventures. Read "Twenty-eight Dollars in the Red" in next Sunday's Metropolitan Section.

ABOUT BROADWAY—Mark Hellinger is writing a series about New York life—the inside story of all the varied types seen in the whirl of white lights of that great city.

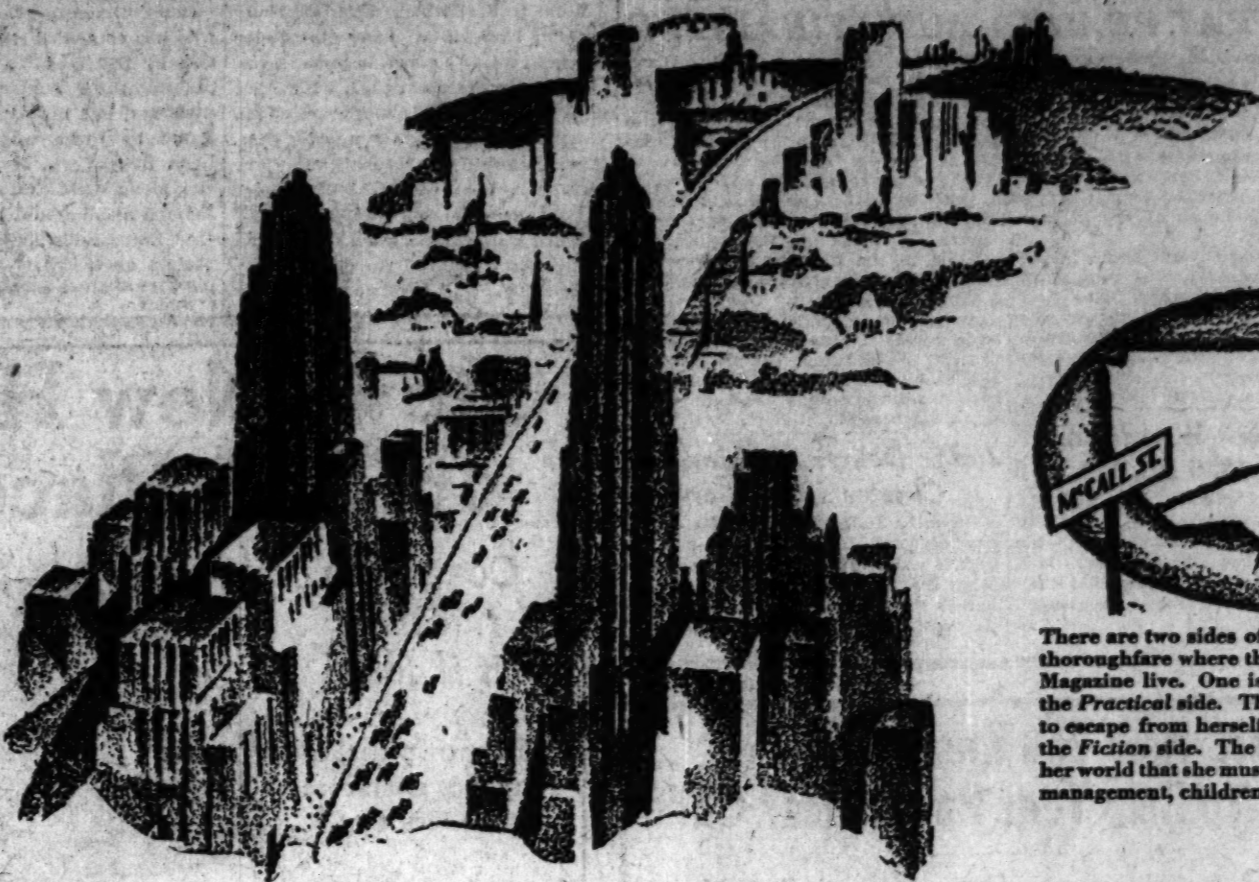

THEATRICAL CARTOON—A four column picture featuring big moments in the most popular plays.

FEATURE STORIES by Tribune writers—Genevieve Forbes Herrick will tell about some of the famous jail characters she has met; Edward Burns will write about funny experiences of prohibition; John Kelly has a great story called "The Rolling Mill Man."

Here is a new section packed with entertainment, illustrations, cartoons, humor, and a variety of interesting stories. It is part of The Sunday Tribune in Chicago and Suburbs, exclusive of the Loop. Look for it next Sunday!

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

at the service of McCall Street...

There are two sides of McCall Street—the well-known thoroughfare where the 2,140,000 readers of McCall's Magazine live. One is the Romantic side—the other, the Practical side. The former meets woman's desire to escape from herself and her surroundings... this is the Fiction side. The latter meets the practical side of her world that she must face daily—foods, clothes, home management, children, etc. This is the Service side of McCall's.

authoritative fashion advice and patterns

LANVIN... Lelong... Patou,
Jenny... Martial et Armand—the great French couturiers—inspire the styles for McCall's Magazine.

When their creations are shown at the opening of the Grande Couture in Paris, McCall's representatives select the outstanding dresses and quickly forward them to America, where they are shown in McCall's Magazine and other McCall style publications. Then through the McCall Printed Pattern these new and authentic fashions are quickly made available through 10,000 retail stores.

The wide circulation of these authoritative patterns makes it easy for women far remote from style centers to have reproductions of the latest Parisian creations just as promptly as those women in the larger metropolitan districts.

The McCall Style Service has four great channels of distribution, through which millions of eager women are immediately advised of the very latest fashion decrees:

First—The fashion section of McCall's Magazine—reaching more than 2,140,000 families.

Each month McCall's shows the newest dresses of the leading French designers, and concurrently with the showing in McCall's the patterns are placed on sale all over the United States and Canada.

Second—Every month McCall Pattern dealers distribute over 5,000,000

McCall Fashion Bulletins to their customers. These popular bulletins feature those gowns and patterns which are most in vogue at the time.

Third—Four times a year the McCall Quarterly goes out to more than 775,000 women, covering the whole range of dresses, coats, afternoon and evening gowns, children's clothes, costumes, etc.

Fourth—The McCall Counter Book, a complete catalog of all McCall Patterns, is issued every month to the 10,000 McCall Pattern stores, and in the course of the year these books are consulted by millions of women who come into these stores to shop.

The tremendous circulation of McCall's fashion advice, and the timeliness and authenticity of McCall Patterns, have made the McCall Style Service one of the outstanding influences in American homes. It has made it possible for women to have more dresses out of the clothes budget, and better dresses than could be bought for the same money. McCall's influence in promoting home dressmaking is strikingly demonstrated by the fact that McCall's Pattern business has in five years increased more than 120 per cent.

McCall's Fashion Service first shows what is proper to wear and then provides the means of making it properly.

New York, Feb. Mary K. Browne will golf professional at the annual meeting of the United States Golf association in April. It was learned on reliable authority today.

The basis for this action will be, according to officials of the association, that Miss Browne's tennis professionalism reflects adversely upon amateur golf.

The grounds upon which Miss Browne will be classified as a professional golfer is the G. A. regulation: "The U. S. G. A. shall have the right to compete for membership under its rules any woman who, in its opinion, has acquired any considerable skill at the game in a manner which interests or amuses the public."

FLOODS RECEDE FROM ILLINOIS' STATE HIGHWAYS

Roads 4, 2, and 7 Again in Use.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Reports from the flooded highway areas on the Illinois paved highway system yesterday indicated that practically all of the main pavements leading to the south and west from Chicago will be available for tourist travel this week-end.

South of Lincoln on the Illinois boulevard state pavement 4-water, which for several days has been a foot deep over the concrete, was reported receding and cars were going through without the aid of these pavements. A temporary bridge has been in use north of Springfield to carry traffic over high water in the Sangamon valley. On state highway 2, where the Illinois had overflowed the pavement to a depth of more than 3 inches at a point just south of LaSalle, a report to the Chicago Motor club stated that cars were proceeding under their own power and that the waters had subsided. Both highways 2 and 7 in this area were safe for travel yesterday.

To the south the Louisville and Memphis sections were reported still dangerous for tourists. Motorists were plowing through between Memphis and Little Rock, Ark., over a detour via Stuttgart.

MUNN ARRIVES FOR MALCEWICZ MATCH MONDAY

Wayne Munn, the former Nebraska football player, and Joe Malcewicz of Utica, N. Y., who meet in a finish wrestling match at the Dreamland arena on Monday night, arrived in Chicago yesterday to complete preparation. Both established training headquarters at Mullen's gymnasium. Leon Labriola, the eastern Italian heavyweight who meets Mike Romano in the semi-windup, also came into the city and is working with Malcewicz. Two other bouts complete the card, which will be staged by Paddy Harmon.

DUPOIS TAKES FIRST LAP OF SLED DOG RACE

Anshand, N. H., Feb. 10. (AP)—Emil St. Godard of Le Pas, Manitoba, drove his team of seven dogs across the finish line of the first day's leg of the New England dog sled race here at 2:35:30 this afternoon. His elapsed time over the 34 1/2 mile run from Wolfboro was three hours 15 1/2 minutes. Leonard Soppala of Alaska, whose dogs came to Nome with antitoxin made him an international hero, was second in. His elapsed time of three hours 16 1/2 minutes betwixt that of St. Godard by two and three-quarter minutes.

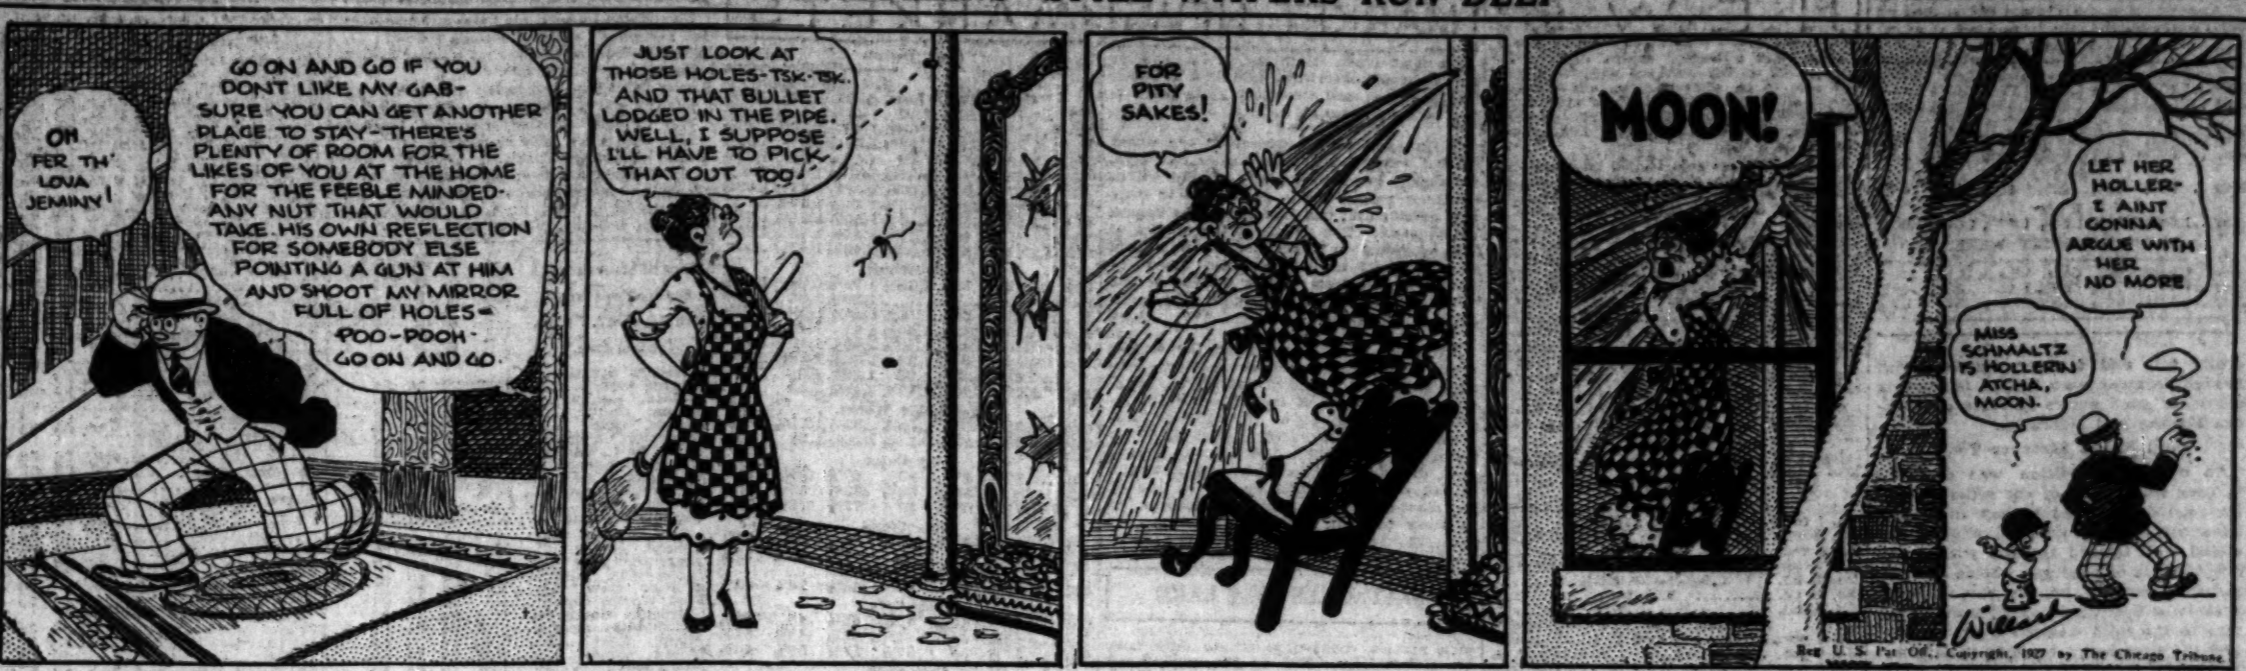

Chicago Woman Loses in Biloxi Golf Tourney

West, Miss, Feb. 10. (Special).—Miss Marion Turpin, the southern and golf states champion, defeated Mrs. C. E. Dunham of Chicago, 3 and 2, in the Oak Hills women's tournament today. Other first flight matches in which Chicagoans figured: Mrs. W. E. Wallace, Chicago, defeated Mrs. F. Baker, New Orleans, 2 and 1; Mrs. Ward Baker, Cedar Rapids, Ia., defeated Mrs. F. Foster, Chicago, 3 and 2; Mrs. J. M. Taylor, Chicago, defeated Mrs. William O'Neil, West, 3 and 2; Mrs. E. E. Thomas, Chicago, defeated Mrs. E. E. Thomas, Columbia, by default.

MOON MULLINS—STILL WATERS RUN DEEP

Favorites at 3 Race Tracks Bow in Defeat

BY FRENCH LANE.

Most race track handicappers were rubbing their heads last night and wondering what had happened at the winter tracks yesterday. In 23 races run at New Orleans, Miami, and Tia Juana only three favorites passed the finish line in front. The talent was hardest hit at New Orleans, where two 1 to 3 shots and another 7 to 10 choice failed to finish among the three placed horses.

One of the failures was Almadel, winner of a rich stake at Lincoln Fields last season, and highly regarded for the $50,000 New Orleans handicap this season that it will be possible to run a special train carrying them from Havana to Chicago early in April. Some of the Havana horses may never survive the trip across the gulf.

Bamboo Fishing Rods Need Attention Soon, Becker Warns

BY BOB BECKER.

Better look over your bamboo fishing rods during the next month, as those fishing tools (if stored in rooms that are kept at a high temperature during the winter) are apt to need a "going over" before they are fit for fishing.

Instead of leaving this work to be done the week before the fishing season opens anglers will find that it pays to start early on the repair jobs, especially if the work is to be done by others. Just before the opening date of the fishing season it is almost impossible to get quick delivery on repair work.

Steam heat shrinks and dries out the glues used on bamboo rods. Often this means loose ferrules.

The tag end of winter also is the time for upstartmen to act if they plan to acquire a hunting dog. If you are considering the purchase of a young spaniel, setter, pointer, Chesapeake, or what not, now is the time to get your pup so that by fall you can own a trained hunting partner. If you buy now the dog will cost less money than if you wait until the hunting season.

Even the healthiest men sometimes have aches

TORMENTED BY ACUTE NEURITIS

Crippling Aches Quickly Relieved by Simple Home Remedy

Freed from the crippling pain of neuritis after having tried various treatments without getting relief, a well-known business man of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"Following influenza I was seized with a violent attack of neuritis in the right arm and shoulder. I got no relief until I tried Sloan's Liniment. The affected arm and shoulder were shortly restored to a healthy condition."

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain, it gets at the cause. Just pat it on gently. Quickly and surely it drives out stiffness, kills pain. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents.

Speedy and Powerful

SOLITE is a light gasoline—it makes your engine light-hearted. Even on the coldest day it starts instantly; your engine is ready and eager to get away.

A pick-up swift and dependable—smooth, easy, tremendous speed. Your engine is happy, eager and good-natured. Cold weather will not make a car cranky when Solite is in the tank.

There is an all-important reason: While Solite is light and volatile, yet it has an individual trait—it drives the piston the full stroke under power. Solite is powerful as well as light.

With Solite in the tank, winter driving is no different from summer driving. If you would have speed and power and freedom from winter driving worries, use Solite. Try it today! You will sense an amazing difference.

Solite costs a few cents more per gallon, but you'll say—"It's worth it!"

MICHIGAN Avenue enjoys volume business that is increasing more rapidly than streets that have more nearly reached their maximum. The location suggested for your consideration, in the Lake Michigan Building, is on Michigan Avenue, at its fastest developing point $1\frac{1}{2}$ blocks from Field's, within less than a block from John T. Shayne's, Jaeger's, Ovington's, and a few doors from Tobey's. The new Illinois Central Suburban Station is across the street, Elevated within two blocks. Surface lines one block, 2022 Buses and more than forty thousand automobiles pass this point between 8 A. M. and 6 P. M. daily. More office building construction is going on within a few blocks of this building than in any other like area in the world.

All retail merchants who believe in the local

value of NATIONAL ADVERTISING

TO YOU—and to the thousands of other retail merchants who have endorsed the local value of manufacturers' advertising in the Woman's Home Companion—the following new facts will undoubtedly be interesting.

For 12 years the local coverage of the Companion has grown constantly more impressive to retail merchants who have investigated Companion circulation in their localities.

They know, for example, that the circulation of the Woman's Home Companion has gained steadily from less than 900,000 in 1915 to more than 1,900,000 in the first part of 1926—a growth averaging nearly 100,000 copies a year!

Now—in 6 months!

The last six months of 1926, however, tell a story of growth that is even more impressive—a phenomenal rise from 1,900,000 readers in July to 2,200,000 in December. An increase of a third of a million readers!

Thus more than ever the Woman's Home Companion is creating desire right in the neighborhoods of dealers' stores for Companion-advertised products.

Manufacturers also have felt this sales-creating power of the Woman's Home Companion. And they have responded to it.

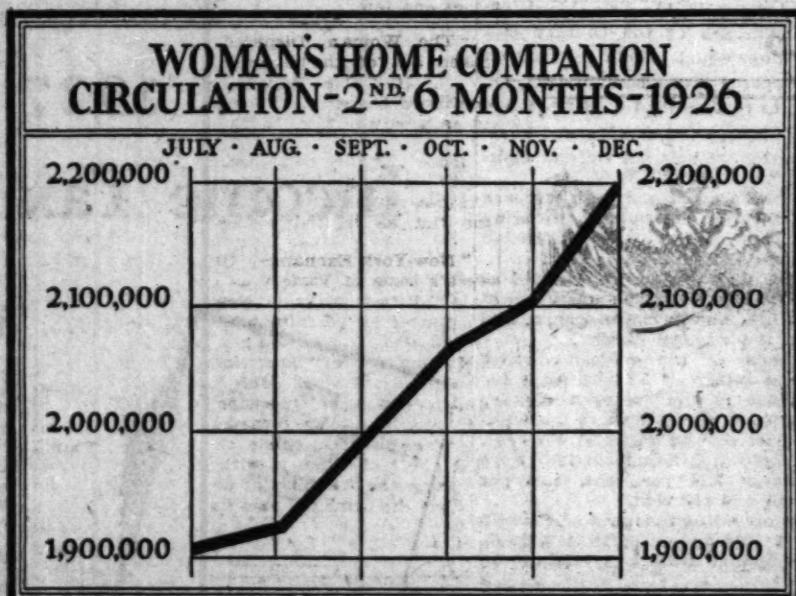

For every year the Companion's advertising lineage also grows. The chart at the right shows how steadily and vigorously.

An increase of 407 advertising pages between 1921 and 1926! A growth of 250,243 advertising lines!

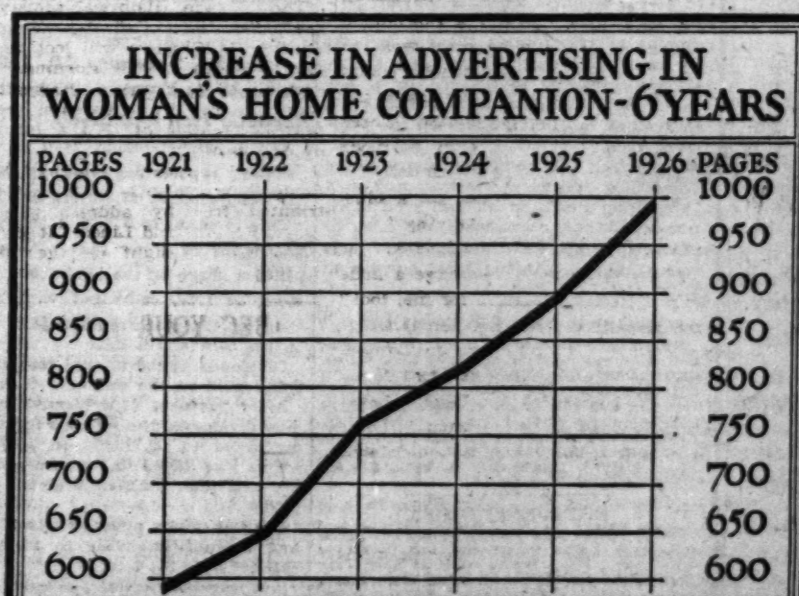

And all this can mean but one thing—that with the Companion at its highest level of reader popularity and local sales influence, it will repay merchants more than ever to link up their own efforts with Companion advertising. It will profit them to carry Companion-advertised products. To feature and push these products. To tie-up with manufacturers' advertising in the Companion by means of local advertising, counter displays, window displays, etc.

Successful merchants everywhere find that it pays.

How Woman's Home Companion circulation climbed during the second six months of 1926—the climax of 12 years of steady growth averaging 100,000 readers a year

Year by year "advertising acceptance" of the Woman's Home Companion has grown. Advertisers today find the Companion indispensable to effective coverage of the home market

Why Tax Marriage Bond with a False Link at Very Start?

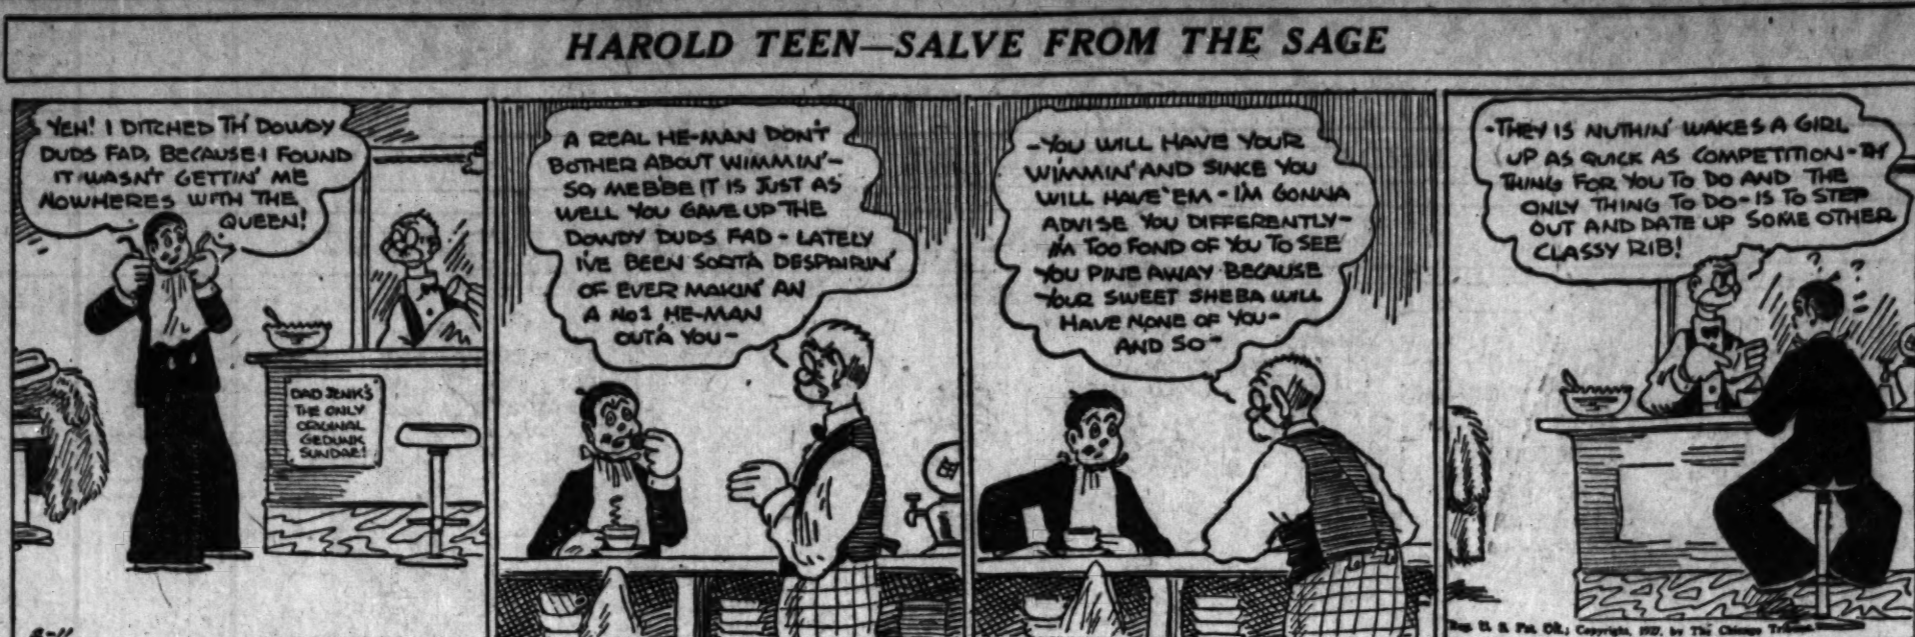

BY DORIS BLAKE.

For several years a certain young couple have been going together. Until six months ago they both thought they were deeply in love. The girl may still not suspect that the man's love is wanting. He knows his feelings are undergoing a change. He is ambitious for social and financial success. He is a university man. The girl's education falls short of his by a number of years of schooling. He is beginning to feel the restlessness that comes generally where there is little in common in a mental way. The girl falls as an inspiration.

Yet, the man has heart and enough feeling for the girl so that he does not want to make her miserable by breaking up the friendship. The breaking of the news to her, he feels, would be a terrible shock and his problem is whether to change a continuation of the engagement, or risk telling her.

"There is about a fifty-fifty possibility that we would be happily married. Would you gamble on a proposition like that?" he asks.

There is no doubt in my mind that a large number of marriages are entered into with the foreknowledge on the part of one or the other of the contracting couple that it is far from an ideal mating. Unhappy marriages they turn out to be, always. You can carry on a courtship with one not wholly adequate to your spiritual, physical and mental needs, but being tied for life is an entirely different thing. The yoke around the neck is a yoke and makes the going difficult.

Companionship, after all, in marriage is the pivot upon which the thing swings. It isn't passion. It isn't money. It isn't the virtues of economy and sobriety. People live most happily together when they have the good old game of companionship to fall back on.

In those many, many hours when they have to sit alongside each other, facing each other, spending time with each other. How companionable these hours are is the test of the game.

A wide breach in educational advantages is a matrimonial handicap. It is just one more barrier to bridge in a job that, under the most evenly matched circumstances, has enough of its own to be handled.

So, if one or the other of an engaged pair finds the old fair is on a tolerated part of the biggest bargain after the fact, and the call the engagement off. Whatever shock is due to the disclosure before marriage, it is not half so hard to bear as the discovery after the fact that you are only two people can enter.

Two More Interesting Britons Add Names to Guest Book Today

BY NANCY R.

With few large doings on the social horizon, chatter of the moment concerns itself mainly with visitors and visits, politics and plays—in at least one of which practically every one still in town is interested.

As to the visitors (I told you our guest book was filling up) two new Britons will appear on the scene this morning, to be the guests of the Francis Nelsons over the week-end. They are the Hon. Arthur Ponsonby, M. P., and his daughter, Elizabeth.

Mr. Ponsonby is one of the outstanding figures in English political life. As a young boy he was page to Queen Victoria. Later he was private secretary to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman; in 1914 he was undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, and now he is a member of parliament. He will speak at the University of Chicago this afternoon on "Settlement of International Disputes."

The Nelsons are giving a dinner for their guests tomorrow evening, and a reception Sunday evening, both affairs to be held in their spacious residence at 4800 Drexel boulevard.

Mrs. James W. Morrison, whose name is almost synonymous with "League of Women Voters," is launching just one more enterprise before she departs for California next Wednesday: the Institute of Government, to be conducted by the Illinois League in cooperation with Northwestern university, on the second, third and fourth of next month. Only the fact that Mrs. Morrison's youngest son has been seriously ill with the flu, and must be taken to a milder climate to convalesce, could induce this efficient lady to be away for those three days.

Although it's a bit early to talk of next winter's bards, I understand that the Morrisons' pretty daughter, Rosemary, who is still in college, will probably make her bow to Chicago society during the Christmas holidays—she was offered the chance to take a whole semester off in which to enjoy her first season out, but she insisted that she didn't want to miss a moment of her college career.

Day's News in Society

Huge blue and white dogers sent to members of the Country Club of Evanston, announce a variety show this evening which promises a good deal of mirth for those who witness it. The program will include "The Gay Nineties in Evanston," augmented by a magic lantern; "Trudy," with Miss Catherine Balmer as Trudy; Mrs. Dennis Gent as Honorable, Troy L. Parker as Svergel, Francis Fabian as Little Billee, Walter Stockton as Taffy, Bud Knight as Sandy, George B. Jones as Zon Zon, Dorel P. Hynd as Gosh, and "Henry Kitchell Webster Jr. as Dodo, Mrs. Walter Stockton, Mrs. Ronald Webster, Mrs. Francis Fabian, Miss Dorothy Schnitz, and Miss Neola "Northern" as the "gorgeous girls from the Latin quarter." Moving pictures, and the Country club male chorus will be given next, after which will follow an intermission (only time to phone home about the baby). Part II, includes a lecture, "The Backbone of the Universe," and concludes with "Green Charteuse," a "mystery drummer."

Jacob Bishoff is to give a dinner party on Feb. 19 for Miss Elizabeth Jackson and Ewing Webb, whose marriage is to take place on March 1. His invitations state the place as "a home about the baby." BEAUTY ANSWERS

MRS. J. T. D.: IT REQUIRES much time to restore busts which have become flabby through nursing. Daily attention is necessary. Bathe the busts daily with cold salt water, and wear a brassiere which properly supports them, even at night. The busts being properly supported, there is an improvement in the circulation.

FARM and GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

SOUTH.

Dr. Arthur F. Albrecht, a New York state marketing authority, preached a little sermon about eggs to New Yorkers the other day which contains a lot of good advice for the midwest poultryman who has reason to make a study of the easterners' whims and fancies in the selection of poultry products.

Facile east poultrymen have been wiser to the wants of the eastern egg eaters for a long time but the central and eastern states just watch carloads of western eggs go by without even peeping inside the door to see what color they are.

Dr. Albrecht says empire state shippers should remember that New York City is distinctly a white egg market and that prices are generally higher on white eggs than on brown or mixed colors. He urges producers to ship clean eggs that are uniformly good size, have sound shells, have pale yolks, and free from visible germ development.

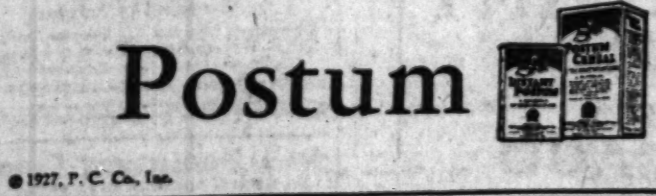

If midwesterner had been in the audience he probably would have told Dr. Albrecht that out where he came from most egg eaters like brown shelled eggs best and that any one ought to know that an egg with a deep yellow yolk is far better than a pale yolk. That information wouldn't likely have changed Dr. Albrecht's way of thinking for he knows that it pays to cater to the consumers' taste no matter what it is.

Some people like snow white butter but a white butter producer would have a hard time selling it to a big majority of midwesterners who put yellow butter at the top.

The sermon's moral is that it pays the farmer to produce what the consumer wants and not spend any time in trying to change the consumers' habits of eating.

Sleepless Nights

How they drag! How awful the next day is! Why take caffeine into your system—a drug stimulant that repels sleep! You can have a delicious hot mealtime drink without caffeine. Sleep Is the Best Little Beautifier

Antoinette Knous

Tell the average woman that you heard about a formula that would refresh her skin in one application—a formula dug from the archives of some great beauty laboratory—and you'd never know at moment's peace until you found out for her where it might be obtained.

Tell her that sleep is the greatest little skin rejuvenator and preservative and she'll yawn at you. That's the worst about these homey truths. We get so used to hearing them we forget to practice them. If sleep, for instance, were some rare ointment, difficult to obtain, we'd be dashing around earning money to get a few grains of it. But being what it is—something you can have for closing your eyes and tucking yourself away at a reasonable hour—it has lost its selling appeal in the beauty market.

A woman about 35 had been through a siege of illness in her family. Two small youngsters and a husband, all invalids under the one roof. It was not a serious enough ailment to worry the woman much, but the lack of sleep she had been suffering for a month had already etched five extra years in her face. When the patients were sufficiently recovered the woman took a room in a hotel and for three days slept and ate. She wanted to be within call should a relapse occur among the former patients. But nothing of the sort happened and the woman slept on for three days. She was not sleeping all the time, of course, but resting and relaxed. She came forth after her beauty treatment a fresh young person, which simply illustrates the straight beauty advantages of sleeping treatments.

If you're one of those persons who sits around until all hours, remarking surprisedly about one o'clock every night that you had no idea it was so late—try one of these sleeping treatments once. They try 'em twice, and three times and see if your face isn't ironed out of a number of shadows and lines.

Invariably the woman who finds going to bed a terrible effort is the one in the family that needs most to go early. The first step toward making sleep a beautifying process is to adopt regular hours and stick to them as many nights of the week as you can. It is just as foolish to wait till you're worn out to go to bed as it is to wait till you are starving before you eat.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S DRESS.

The straight, pointed panel in this one piece dress is made of allover embroidery. The material the dress is made of is Burgundy flat crepe. The long sleeves are finished with cuffs to match the collar and narrow velvet ribbon makes the tie. Self material has been used for the narrow belt, completing a most attractive dress.

The pattern, 654, comes in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4 yards of plain material, 36 or 40 inches wide, and ¾ yard of allover embroidery. If made of one material, 4½ yards will be required.

Floating Bolero Is Cape-Back Revived

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special.]—The backward frock, unlike the backward club, needs no special pleading. Any sort of trimming in the back has always carried its own justification. This is especially true of floating scarfs or loose panels which contribute a flying grace to the costume.

Today we show a floating bolero. Here is a revival in a new form of the charming cape back. Very full in the back, the bolero is merely sketched in front where it is fashioned of georgette. Black lace is applied for the fruck and black georgette for the flounces of skirt and bolero.

Notice that all the fullness of the skirt is gathered at one side where it is draped at the

CADILLAC

"With Thousands of Unused Miles"

It's the miles you will receive from a used car that directly concern you. What that car can give—the quality of those miles—is what chiefly interests you as a buyer.

The 90 day warranty and the reconditioning process definitely settle that for you in reconditioned V-8's Cadillacs. The unused miles will be practically new car miles.

It is to assure this that Cadillac mechanics—the men who service new cars for Cadillac owners—replace parts, grind valves, adjust and test these V-8's so carefully.

It is to assure this that the cars are thoroughly cleaned, and the Duce finish either brought back to its original luster or replaced.

It is to make sure that owners of V-8's will enjoy genuine Cadillac miles that new tires are installed and everything made as perfect as possible.

And these miles—reconditioned V-8's miles—cost only:

V-8 Reconditioned Touring, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Sedan, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Coupe, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Phaeton, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Limousine, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Sedan, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Coupe, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Phaeton, $1,500
V-8 Reconditioned Limousine, $1,500

They may be bought on convenient terms and your present car used as part payment. See them at any of the showrooms listed.
